Arrangements for Fine Display of Cattle and Farm Produce—The Committees in Charge

The Middlesex North Agricultural Society and Chelmsford Grange fair opened today at Chelmsford Centre with all circumstances in its favor and giving prospects of being even a more brilliant success than in previous years. As is the custom, in events of this kind, the affair is financed by the Middlesex North Agricultural society while the members of the Chelmsford grange are taking full charge of the arrangements.

This year the fair is bigger and better than ever, there being made new attractions and additional arrangements. Last year the event took place in Chelmsford also, and in other years it has been held in Billerica and the other neighboring towns. It will continue until Friday evening when the prizes will be awarded the winners in the various competitions.

Opened This Noon

For the opening event of the day, there was prepared a bounteous dinner to be served in the vestry of the Congregational church by the Ladies of the Congregational society. Throughout the entire morning people began to arrive via electric cars, automobiles, teams and on foot, and the roadway about the common, and particularly in front of the town hall, was filled with vehicles of every description. It was evident at the outset that the fair had been given wide publicity and was destined to be well patronized.

The exhibits are stationed in the town hall, on the common, and in the space in the rear of the Unitarian church. Everything is most attractively arranged by those in charge and expressions of admiration for the work of decorating were heard on every side.

SURVEY OF THE MERRIMACK RIVER

The Waterways Board, Engineers and Other Officials Make Tour to Study Possibilities of Navigation

Governor Foss did not put in an appearance at Lowell's city hall this forenoon as per schedule. His Excellency telephoned last night that he would be here today to participate in an inspection trip through the Merrimack valley in connection with the proposed development of the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea.

Mayor O'Donnell, President Harrigan and Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade were notified by telephone at about 8 o'clock last night that the governor and members of the executive council, members of the Merrimack Valley waterway board, members of the harbor and land commission and Col. Mills of the U. S. A. engineers would arrive in this city this forenoon and would be at city hall at 10:30 o'clock.

The governor's council, the harbor and land commission and the Merrimack Valley waterway board were represented; Col. Mills of the U. S. A. was on deck, but the governor did not show up. Asked why the governor didn't come, one of the visitors said: "He changed his mind—a right that he reserves at all times."

Reception at City Hall

The fact that the governor and members of his council, together with members of the Merrimack Valley waterway board and harbor and land commission, were to visit Lowell today came as somewhat of a surprise to Mayor O'Donnell and others. Members of the municipal council, other than the mayor, didn't know anything about it, and were somewhat surprised when the visitors arrived at the hall. The visitors were received in the mayor's reception room and were met by the mayor and Commissioners Barrett and Cummings.

The list of visitors included Judge Charles C. Pattee, chairman of the Merrimack Valley waterway board; Louis R. Hovey, who is credited with being the most active member of the board; A. B. Sutherland, another member of the board; State Engineer George W. Wood, who has charge of the survey; Dr. John Frothingham, of the governor's council; James C. Conlin, secretary of the Lawrence board of trade; Clerk Fred N. Wales, of the harbor and lands commission; Councilor Simpson, of Newton; Daniel Dinney, of Worcester; W. P. Williams, chief engineer of the harbor and lands commission, and Col. John Mills, U. S. A. Col. Mills is a new man in this district having succeeded Col. Abbott, who made a general report on the river navigable proposition. It was Col. Mills' first visit to this section and he was very much interested in the trip.

Gov. Foss Waterway Advocate

Governor Foss did not send any excuse for his failure to join the investigators, but all of the visitors knew that the governor is a great waterway advocate and is very much interested in the development of the Merrimack river. This statement was made at the city hall this morning. It was stated, too, that the man delegated to send out the invitations for today's trip had taken sick and the fact that the invitations had not been sent out was not known until the last moment. The visitors remained less than an hour at city hall and were accompanied on their motor trip to the sea by Mayor O'Donnell, Commissioner Barrett, Secretary Murphy of the Lowell board of trade, and City Engineer Stephen Kearney. They viewed the river from various vantage points in

MAYOR GAYNOR DIED SUDDENLY AT SEA

Executive of New York Passed Away on Steamer Baltic—Took Trip for His Health

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Mayor Gaynor died on the steamer Baltic in mid-ocean at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

News of his death was received here in a message sent by wireless and caa fast-falling man on the morning of Sept. 3. An hour before he sailed but one man, his secretary, knew of his plans outside of members of his immediate family. The mayor's announced purpose was a brief vacation on the ocean. He felt that the tonic effect of the salt air would restore him in some measure to health. It was his purpose to sail for home on the return voyage of the Baltic due to reach New York Sept. 26.

The Baltic was due at Queenstown today. The mayor died as she was nearing the other side. The news of his death was sent by wireless to Cuxhaven by Rufus Gaynor and relayed from Cuxhaven to New York by cable. Mayor Gaynor left New York at a time when the city was seething in one of the strangest political situations in its history. The day before his departure he was notified on the city hall steps by representatives of independent political organizations that they had chosen him as their standard bearer in the mayoralty campaign. A throng that crowded city hall park assembled to hear him accept. He had prepared a speech of acceptance, but was so weak that he was unable to deliver it and his secretary read it for him, the mayor standing beside him.

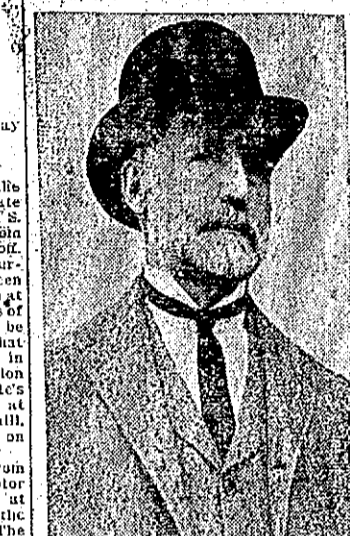

Before the mayor sailed his secretary issued a statement denying reports of the mayor's serious illness.

Attack of Throat Trouble

The recent attack of the old throat trouble, due to the wound inflicted on Aug. 5, 1910, by James J. Gallagher, just as he was about to sail for a brief vacation in Europe, had entirely disappeared, according to Mr. Adams, and the mayor expected to return and enter the campaign with his old-time vigor. The mayor himself, just before leaving spoke of his condition as follows:

"I have been nearly four years mayor and have not yet had any vacation."

The hotel corridors here had the appearance of a convention scene this forenoon. The hotel shortly after 9 o'clock and said he was ready to preside at any time the complainant against Thaw desired. It looked then as if the hearing would not get under way before 11 o'clock.

It was announced shortly after 11 o'clock that by mutual consent counsel had agreed to postpone the hearing until four o'clock. It was expected that the case would then be adjourned until tomorrow.

Thaw followed Thaw to the barber shop and pressed noses against the shop window while he was being shaved this morning. Sheriff Drew stood beside him. Thaw was in gay humor and spoke laughingly of his trip yesterday.

THAW CONTENTED AND HOPEFUL

Case Assumes the Familiar Aspect of Uncertainty and Delay—His Counsel Prepared to Fight Extradition

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 11.—The case of Harry Thaw, fugitive from Matteawan, free agent for three hours yesterday, prisoner today of Sheriff Drew of Coos county, assumed this afternoon the familiar aspect of uncertainty and delay. Counsel working for and against his return to the asylum agreed not to arraign him before a magistrate until 4 p. m. and then to adjourn the case until tomorrow. He is charged with conspiring with others to bring about his escape from Matteawan and it is upon this charge that William Travers Jerome will seek his extradition. Failing in this, Jerome will contend that Thaw is insane and should be turned over to an attendant from Matteawan.

Followed by crowds who neither cheered nor booed, Thaw went about the village today accompanied by Sheriff Drew apparently contented and hopeful.

Local counsel yesterday made plans for his release on writ of habeas corpus but decided today that to liberate him with Detective Lanyon and William Travers Jerome around was a dangerous move and held the matter in abeyance.

THAW AND COUNSEL MAKE PLANS TO RESIST EXTRADITION TO NEW YORK

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, thrown out of the Dominion of Canada yesterday and arrested here after a 50-mile flight in an automobile, spent the night in a hotel room here under guard. Lawyers kept him up until a late hour, laying plans to resist extradition to New York. In another part of the hotel William Travers Jerome, deputized by the state to get the fugitive back to Matteawan, conferred with Thaw's most recent captor, Sheriff Holman Drew, over the court procedure to be followed today.

Mr. Jerome, accompanied by Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy of New York reached town last night on a special train and while they ate in the kitchen of the Monadnock house they discussed the situation.

At first merely detained Thaw was subsequently arrested on a complaint charging him with conspiracy in connection with his escape from the asylum and it was upon this charge that he was arraigned today before Justice James Carr in police court. New York was prepared to ask that he be remanded pending the receipt of a requisition warrant.

Safer as Prisoner

The Thaw lawyers yesterday took preliminary steps to sweat out a writ of habeas corpus in the prisoner's behalf. It was said this morning they might not press this further and that like the Canadian counsel who tried hard to keep Thaw in the Sherbrooke jail they considered their client safer as a prisoner than at large.

Thaw might be seized by John Lanyon, a private detective who has been working with Jerome and hustled across the New York state line as a lunatic.

Both Messrs. Jerome and Kennedy were indignant at the action of the Canadian authorities who put Thaw over the border yesterday.

Scandal in Canada

"We had no inkling of it" and Jerome today. "To say the least it was a high-handed piece of work. It was neither fair to Thaw, a lunatic, nor to the state of New York. Moreover, it upsets the principals of justice based on the habeas corpus act and I do not doubt that it will result in more or less of a scandal in Canada."

Thaw retired before midnight and far from objecting to the presence of Deputy Sheriff Kelsa insisted that other guards, too, sit near the door. Two armed deputies dozed in rocking chairs just outside the room, the door was left ajar and a light was kept burning in the hall all night.

Strong Arm Work

Thaw was fearful of what he called strong arm work. After his experience at Coalbrook yesterday nothing would surprise him.

Jerome's presence filled him with terror. The unwelcome taste of liberty yesterday with its incident thrills and responsibilities left him trusting entirely to counsel and making few suggestions.

Thaw himself does not know except in one case the identity of the three men who caused him to be set down over the line at Norton Mills. The man he does know is Agent Parkinson,

BRIEF POLICE COURT

Man Fined for Disregarding Street Signs

Police court was a short affair this morning. Only two defendants occupied the dock but two other cases came up for settlement.

A rather prolonged argument between Lawyer Goldman and Milk Inspector Master took place when the case of Leon H. Parker, charged with peddling watered milk, was called for trial. Parker, it appeared, was working for F. L. Emerson at the time the milk samples which were below the standard were taken from his wagon and the defense argued that Parker could not be the guilty party inasmuch as he was another man's servant.

Mr. Master cited several supreme court decisions which he claimed had direct bearing on the case in hand. The evidence produced by the government, however, did not appear to be sufficient to convict the defendant and he was found not guilty.

Samuel Creamer did not heed the signs denoting that Nichols was a one-way street and paid a dollar for disregard of signs. This is the first defendant who has appeared in some time for violation of this city ordinance.

Elizabeth Hague made her fourth appearance for drunkenness in the local court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge. She asked to be given another chance but Judge Enright could not grant it on account of her past record. The defendant was sent to jail for four months.

John L. Sullivan, not the pugilist, pleaded guilty to drunkenness. This was John's third offence within the year. He told the court that he had a good job and would immediately return to it if given a suspended sentence. Judge Enright awarded him a suspended sentence of five months in jail. Two releases by Probation Officer Slattery completed the list of arrests on today's docket.

DEFENDS THE BULGARIAN TROOPS

Professor Stephanove Says Bulgaria Was Not the Aggressor in Latest Balkan War

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Constantine Stephanove, professor of Russian literature in the University of Sofia, Bulgaria, has written a letter to friends in New York in which he defends Bulgaria from the allegations freely made against her that she was the aggressor in the latest Balkan war, and that Bulgarian troops have committed a series of atrocities in southeastern Europe.

The letter, written from Sofia, where Professor Stephanove resides, and was written in August shortly after the conclusion of peace at Bucharest. The writer begins by describing the isolation in which Bulgaria had found herself for several weeks past. Her enemies, Serbia, Roumania, Greece, and Montenegro conspired to make it practically impossible for Bulgaria to communicate with the outside world during the first months of the fighting, taking advantage of this condition to circulate abroad a number of misstatements and even mendacious statements concerning the progress of the war, all reflecting on Bulgaria. He then outlines the secret treaty concluded last May between Turkey and Greece, by which Greece guaranteed Turkey armed assistance for the occupation of Adrianople. Turkey, in return, pledging her support to Greece for the seizure of Thrace. The conspiracy of Serbia, Roumania, Greece, Montenegro and Turkey against Bulgaria is characterized as one of the most complete and notable phases of the concerted action was the circulation of baseless and lying reports, all designed to injure Bulgaria in the eyes of the world, and which Bulgaria was at

After Long Suffering

Women Are Constantly Being Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Worth mountains of gold," says one woman. Another says, "I would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all the other medicines for women in the world." Still another writes, "I should like to have the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound thrown on the sky with a searchlight so that all suffering women could read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their ills."

We could fill a newspaper ten times the size of this with such quotations taken from the letters we have received from grateful women whose health has been restored and suffering banished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such a universal success? Why has it lived and thrived and kept on doing its glorious work among the sick women of the world for more than 30 years?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has ever approached its success is plainly and simply because there is no other medicine so good for women's ills.

Here are two letters that just came to the writer's desk—only two of thousands, but both tell a comforting story to every suffering woman who will read them—and be guided by them.

FROM MRS. D. H. BROWN.

Iola, Kansas.—During the Change of Life I was sick for two weeks. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken 12 bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others.—Mrs. D. H. Brown, 800 North Walnut Street, Iola, Kan.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS:

Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for 14 years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularity. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sarsaparilla. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.—Mrs. SAMUEL WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

All these testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each came to us entirely unsolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

Adrianople and Tchaatalja had been brought across the border into Macedonia by June 30. The Bulgarian army, consisting of the village of Zito, by the Servians, was the first serious incident to provoke war. A Macedonian leader named Arbezka rallied on the Servians for this attack, and the following day the Servians advanced against the Bulgarian troops, realizing and drove their enemies back for a distance of twenty miles.

"That same day the fighting became general all along the border. Bulgaria was attacked by Servians, Greeks and Montenegrins. Against the Bulgarian army of 200,000 men under General Ivanoff. Nevertheless, on the first and second days of the fighting, Bulgaria routed her enemies, inflicting tremendous losses.

The defeat of the Servians and the Greeks was complete, when to the consternation of the Bulgarian soldiers there came orders to stop fighting and return to their original positions. The order was a fatal one. The army cited bitterly when called upon to obey it. But Russia, who had promised to settle the differences between Servians and Bulgarians, did not obey Bulgaria and sent an envoy to tell the Servians of the order were murdered.

Attack Upon Servians
"Then came a furious attack upon the Servians, but Macedonia volunteers saved the day. This was followed by general fighting, with no decisive results. General Ivanoff made a successful retreat, inflicting awful losses on the Greeks. The Bulgarians opposed to the Servians held their own and even captured 3000 Servians. Bulgaria crossed the Servian border and razed Kujavatz, Zaitchev, etc., and razed railroad which connected Belgrade and Macedonia.

"Just as Bulgaria was about to execute a brilliant maneuver and administer a death blow to her treacherous enemies, Roumania attacked her from the rear and seized northern Bulgaria. At the same time Turkey sent troops to retake Adrianople. Roumania declared Bulgaria must stop her invasion of Servia. Short of her strength by her war with Turkey, Bulgaria had to concede.

"The powers then intervened and after a preliminary meeting at Bucharest an armistice was concluded at Bucharest. It is now believed that a subsequent conference of the great powers will revise the Bucharest convention, and settle permanently all territorial differences between the Balkan states.

A foreign diplomat has summed up the situation thus: "The Bulgarian army, by its brilliant successes in Turkey, inspired fear in Roumania, Servia and Greece. They believed that another ten years would see her the dominant power in the Balkans and one of the great powers of Europe. Hence the conspiracy. They reasoned it would be better to annihilate Bulgaria now than be annihilated by her in the near future."

"As to the charges of atrocities for which Bulgaria has been unjustly blamed, they are entirely unfounded. The world already is being informed as to the actual perpetrators of these horrible deeds. Over 100,000 refugees have fled to Bulgaria from Macedonia. Hundreds and thousands have met death at the hands of Greek and Servian soldiers. The stories of these refugees rend the heart. Many Macedonian towns have been burned by the Greeks, who killed every Bulgarian who fell into their hands.

"Few people know what Bulgaria has really accomplished. We have many faults, but we are conscious of the fact that we have won no more. We wanted to free Macedonia. Our neighbors, jealous of our might, are doing all they can to talk us in our desire to gather all Bulgarians under one roof."

GROCERS AND BUTCHERS

Will Continue Thursday Afternoon Closing

The members of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association held an important meeting at the Builders' exchange last night with President E. A. Fitzpatrick in the chair. Considerable business was transacted, among which was a unanimous vote to close the establishments Thursday afternoon during the fall and winter seasons, which means that the grocers and butchers' stores will hereafter close Thursday afternoons the entire year.

The committee which is looking after the Sunday closing reported some violations about town and the names of the offenders will be handed to the proper authorities. If the violations are continued.

An interesting report of the recent meeting of the association was given by E. M. Bowers, secretary and treasurer, who said that from every point of view the affair was the most successful ever conducted by the association. Votes of thanks were extended to the jobbers of Lowell, Peter Butterworth and the Bay State Street Railway Co., who greatly helped to make the affair a success.

FIRE IN NORTH STATION

Explosion Set Cars Afire—Trains Delayed

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Considerable excitement followed the explosion of an automobile gas tank on an engine in the North station soon after 6:30 o'clock last night, and for a time it was feared that a serious fire would result. Fortunately the station ran toward the exits, while commuters who were in their seats of a Reading local train, numbering more than 100 men and women, hurried to places of safety.

The flames lighted up the entire station and caused damage amounting to about $300. Two passenger coaches on the North station train due to leave the station at 7:15 were stopped, and nearly all of the windows on the side nearest the fire were blown out. Fortunately there were no passengers in those cars. The Reading train, which was scheduled to leave the station at 6:45, was on track 9 and the Montreal train on track 10. Suddenly there was an explosion under the boiler of the engine and the report was followed by a sheet of flame which spread around the engine and across toward the passenger coaches.

The engine and firemen jumped from their positions while the train on the station sought to quit the station. The Reading train, which was scheduled to leave the station at 6:45, was on track 9 and the Montreal train on track 10. Suddenly there was an explosion under the boiler of the engine and the report was followed by a sheet of flame which spread around the engine and across toward the passenger coaches.

A new engine was attached to the Reading train which left the station at 7:02 o'clock, while the other coaches were substituted for those damaged on the Montreal train.

At 6:20 o'clock there was an alarm from 752 at the South station. The fire was needless, having been caused by an excited man who saw one of the locomotives blowing off steam.

MAN WALKS ON WATER

Strolled Over Surface of the Charles River

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Scores of idlers and pleasure seekers along the Charles river esplanade between the West Boston and Craigie bridges were treated yesterday afternoon to the novel spectacle of a young man strolling with apparent unconcern over the surface of the broad basin between the Boston and Cambridge shores.

It was the first exhibition of the latest pastime of water walking as it has been developed by J. A. Truesdale of Lynn. The new sport, according to its demonstrator, is twice as much fun as snow shoeing or skiing, and has the added fascination of being considerably more hazardous to the beginner.

Truesdale made his start from the bath-house close to the viaduct and for some 20 minutes walked about on the water without any mishap. So confident was he of his skill that he refused to allow a boat to follow him, and he resembled diminutive pontoons.

They are air and water tight, and the feet is fitted in to the upper portion of the shoe, so that it can be easily freed in case of a tangle. Each is supplied with a system of air pipes, the secret of which is carefully guarded.

30 WOMEN FIGHT BLAZE

Avert Possible Conflagration at Lynn

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Women as civic servants came into their own yesterday afternoon at Lake Shore park, Lynn, when 30, under the leadership of Mrs. Sarah Warring and Mrs. Bertha Haskell put out a blaze that threatened to destroy the home of Edward Lynch and might have spread rapidly about the park.

These women for some time have been organized as a fire protective association with Mrs. Warring as chief and Mrs. Haskell as assistant chief. They felt that their aid would some day be required in a district where fire men were at hand in the day time, and they had practiced fire fighting thoroughly.

The fire when discovered was breaking through the roof of the Lynch home and only prompt work could save it. The chief rushed to the little fire station built by the women themselves, and with the help of others of their sex rolled the hose reel to the scene of the blaze. Just as quickly Mrs. Haskell came with the chemical, and in perfect order the two led their forces against the fire.

Through the smoke the chemical line was carried up the stairs and a stream of water shot into the flames with such effect that the fire was out in a few minutes. In a short time only a few smoldering bits of wood left where the danger had been. The damage will not exceed $300.

Meanwhile someone had sounded an alarm on the Peabody fire whistle and a department from that town came to the scene of the fire and helped direct their energies to cooling the hose and congratulating the women.

Some bitterness was injected into the hearing when one of the attorneys declared that just prior to Mr. Williams' death he (Williams) had received $5000, and demanded to know what had become of the money. Executor Hunt was on his feet in an instant, resenting what he claimed an indirect assertion that he had knowledge of the money in question.

The hearing developed charges that some of the paper included in the estate of the deceased is questionable, though part of it is secured. It was also indicated that some of the notes have been raised, and that the affairs of the estate are in a highly complicated state.

30 WOMEN FIGHT BLAZE

Avert Possible Conflagration at Lynn

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Women as civic servants came into their own yesterday afternoon at Lake Shore park, Lynn, when 30, under the leadership of Mrs. Sarah Warring and Mrs. Bertha Haskell put out a blaze that threatened to destroy the home of Edward Lynch and might have spread rapidly about the park.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "innies" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are no counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Labor Man Says Turmoil and Destruction is Aim

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sept. 11.—In his annual report to the state convention of the Federation of Labor yesterday, Frank Thomas A. Flanagan denounced the Industrial Workers of the World, saying that its leaders are a band of men who travel about the country starting labor troubles, and then parading as if they were doing some good for the wage workers.

The aim of the organization, President Flanagan declared, was "turmoil and destruction." He said the rank and file of intelligent workers will not affiliate with such a body.

Professors Make Daring Descent Into Crater

NAPLES, Sept. 11.—Professor Mercalli, director of the observatory of Mount Vesuvius, together with several professors of the University of Munich, accomplished a daring descent into the crater of the volcano yesterday.

The professor remained inside the crater two hours studying, in the midst of asphyxiating gases, new volcanic activity. The descent into and ascent from the inner regions of the mountain occupied eight hours.

The scientists say that a great re-awakening of the volcano is approaching.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The Lowell Opera House. The best yet, was the verdict of the crowded house at the Opera House last night, and well they might say so for without doubt one of the greatest entertainments has ever been seen in this city is now being presented in this theatre. The production of "Theodora" is very massive and cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 to produce the same. The story is taken from the novel of the same name by Victoria Sardou. It depicts a most thrilling and interesting story, and it will hold the attention of all from the first picture until the final one is shown.

The remainder of the program is up to the high standard set by the opera house since its advent into feature pictures.

Merrimack Square Theatre Players

One of the strongest attractions which has ever played the Merrimack Square theatre is the offering there this week, namely Wm. C. deMille's great three-act drama, "The Woman." Since its opening performance, capable audiences have been flocking to the theatre to see the play, and even now the advance sale for the remainder of the week far exceeds any previous week. It is a play which is entirely away from the usual run of the kind and in this feature perhaps makes its strongest appeal to the average theatregoer. Dealing with political life at Washington and having for its central character the leading politician of the country, one can readily imagine to what a pitch the interest is brought during the action of the play. The bill is a short cast one and each and all members of the company are seen to their best, particularly Miss Young as "Wanda Kells" and Mr. John Charles as "Jim Blake." The political boss, is interpreting his part in a most satisfactory manner. The staging of the piece is adequately done and the latest motion pictures are also shown. Seats for all performances now on sale. For the coming week "The Fastest" will be the attraction.

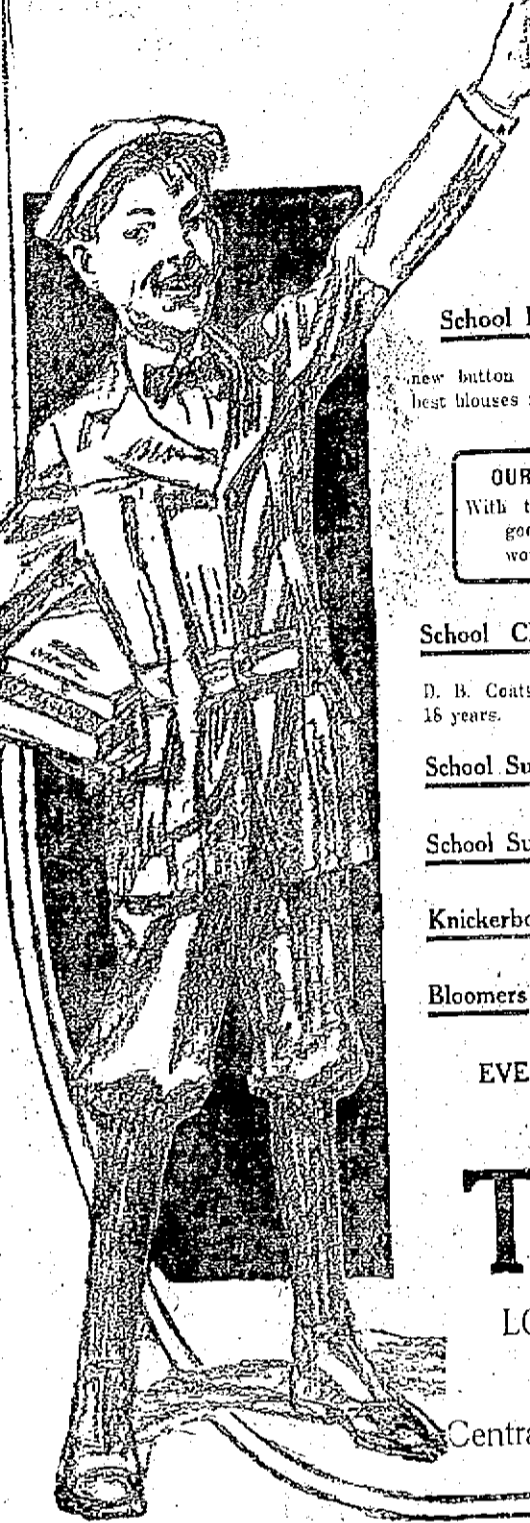

B. F. Keith's Theatre

The drawing power of Neptune's Garden of the Enchanted Statues, appearing at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is undoubted. The act lacks absolutely nothing in the way of gorgeous detail, and the last cast is just as it was during the long runs in Philadelphia. The spectacle goes to New York for a run. The singing of Miss Clara Sexton, prima donna soprano, is much liked, while the spectacular features, such as the diving of the Berlin sisters and Agnes Carroll, the dancing of Signor Casetta and Signorina Lestora, and the violin playing of Elsa Goyard are keenly appreciated. Other features on the bill are: Claude and Fanny Usher and "Sparrows" in a comedy; Irene Myers & Co. in "Daddy"; Pearl and Roth, singing and talking men; the Tabors, expert jugglers; Al Carleton, comedienne, and the Labrakans, comedy gymnasts. Good seats for all performances may be obtained. Phone 28.

Lakeview Theatre

The quixotic temperament of the Mexicans is graphically shown by Dr. John C. Bowker, the noted lecturer appearing at the Lakeview theatre every afternoon and evening this week. Bowker made a careful study of the inhabitants of the republic, which is just now causing so much trouble, he knows intimately the habits, the customs, as well as the failings of the inhabitants. A hundred brilliantly-colored lantern slides are thrown on the screen during the rendition of the

MISS LOWELL SMOKES

Mills in City of Lowell do the Same

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—That Miss Amy Lowell, poetess, sister of President Abbott Lawrence Lowell of Harvard university, made a regular habit of smoking an after-dinner cigar on the deck of the Cunarder Laconia was the assertion made by her fellow passengers on the vessel, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool.

No attempt to conceal her penchant cigars was made by Miss Lowell, these passengers say.

To newspaper men at the dock Miss Lowell admitted that she was interested in suffrage, though she denied any sympathy with the militants and insisted that she supported them very "mildly." Miss Lowell's age, a matter of some discussion among her fellow passengers, is understood to be about forty-five.

How Any Woman Can Remove Fuzzy Growths

(The Modern Beauty)

Many beauty shops use a delicate paste for removing hair from the face, neck or arms, as it is more satisfactory in every way than the electric needle. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a paste, and spread on the hairy surface for two minutes, then removed and with it comes every bit of hair. After the skin is washed it will be firm and free from bluish. To insure best results, buy the delatone from your druggist in an original package.

M'MANUS SUMMONS PITCHER

Jesse Burkett Tried to Prevent Service on Bushelman and was Threatened With Arrest

Jack Bushelman, pitcher for the Worcester team, was summoned yesterday to appear in the superior court at Taunton in the case of Thos. Dowd vs. the New Bedford Baseball Association. The summons was made out by John W. McEvoy, Esq., and was served on Bushelman at the New American House at 12:30 yesterday, by Constable John McManus.

Constable McManus claims that Jesse Burkett, manager of the Worcester team, interfered when he passed the summons and traveling expenses, $8 in all, to Bushelman and Mr. McManus says he threatened Burkett with arrest.

The call of the summons was that Bushelman should go to Taunton at once but instead of going to Taunton he went to Spaulding park and pitched the first game for the Worcester team.

Lawyer Hanson of Taunton telephoned to Lawyer McEvoy and asked him to make out the summons and have it served on Bushelman. Mr. McEvoy complied with the request and gave the summons to Constable McManus to serve.

"I went to the New American House with the summons and the money," said Mr. McManus, "and I passed them both to Mr. Bushelman. Mr. Burkett was there and he said that Bushelman couldn't go to Taunton this afternoon. He snatched the summons and the money from Bushelman's hand and pushed me away."

"I told him to beware of the majesty of the law and warned him that he was liable to arrest for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. I left the summons and money there and Mr. Burkett took it."

After talking with Mr. McManus the reporter for The Sun talked with Mr. McEvoy and related Mr. McManus' story and Mr. McEvoy said that by refusing to act in accordance with the summons Mr. Bushelman was liable to arrest for contempt of court.

The Sun's representative at the ball game at Spaulding park spoke to Jesse Burkett about the fracas at the hotel when the summons was served and Burkett didn't deny anything, but said he wasn't worrying about any arrests being made.

GOMPERS ON STAND

Testified Before House Lobby Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, appeared yesterday as a witness before the house lobby investigating committee, beginning an inquiry into organized labor's efforts to influence legislation in congress.

Mr. Gompers, questioned by his attorney, Jackson H. Bailton, gave the committee a detailed statement of the aims and purposes of the American Federation of Labor, frankly told of its efforts, through a legislative committee, to influence congress toward the enactment of legislation favorable to the workers, and declared that in this effort opposition of the National Association of Manufacturers always had been encountered. "The only evidence that I and my colleagues ever had as to the existence of the National Association of Manufacturers," he added, "was vindictive antagonism to everything we advocated, no matter how humane."

At a night session, Mr. Gompers resumed the stand and was asked if he and the American Federation of Labor ever opposed the election of anyone to congress. He said that they had, and that the first opposition was directed in 1906 against Charles E. Littlefield of Maine. He added that he found, when he went to Maine, that Martin M. Mulhall, and other agents of the National Association of Manufacturers, had preceded him.

"What did you find Mulhall doing there?" asked Bailton.

"If I may use the language of the street," said the witness, "I found that he was engaged in corraling voters and getting them tanked up. This system he continued until election day. One day a friend of mine came to me and asked me if I knew how much whiskey and beer were being housed in halls used by Mulhall for his district. I said I did not and he said he would show me. So I went with my friend one night and he took me up two flights of stairs in a building, where I saw a large number of men changing or sitting around in greater or lesser degree of inebriety. None of them seemed to know me. We seemed to have the entire floor. They all seemed to imagine that I cared to insinuate with them and I remained there long enough to see liquor freely handed around."

Gompers said the income of the federation in 1912 was $297,000, the per capita contribution being nine cents from a membership of more than 2,000,000 workers. He said that the federation spent $8147 in political work in the campaign of 1906, and $8493 in that of 1908. Much of this money went for speakers and for postage used in the distribution of campaign literature.

ELLIOTT SUCCEEDS HELLEN
New President of New Haven Elected Director of the Maine Central Railroad
PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 11.—Pres-

UNDERWOOD MAY LAND IN SENATE; KITCHEN IS IN LINE TO SUCCEED HIM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—If Oscar W. Underwood, leader of the house, runs for the senate to secure the seat left vacant by the death of Senator Johnson of Alabama and lands the place it is likely that his job in the lower body will be taken by Representative Claude Kitchen of North Carolina. By right of seniority Underwood's mantle would fall upon Claude Kitchen. It always has been the custom for the ranking member of the ways and means committee to become chairman whenever there is a vacancy.

dent Howard Elliott of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was elected a member of the board of directors of the Maine Central railroad at a meeting of the board here yesterday, filling the vacancy due to the resignation at Charles S. Mellen.

The regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share was declared payable October 1 to stockholders of record September 15.

Mr. Elliott also was elected a director of the Portland Terminal company and the other subsidiary companies of the Maine Central in place of Mr. Mellen.

NOTED MURDERER IS FREE

Shipped to Greece and Given Freedom

OFFICER JOHN REGIS EXPECTED $100 REWARD

For His Capture But He is not Likely to Receive It—Worked Hard on the Case

Word was received in this city a couple of days ago that Demetrius Vires, the noted murderer who was arrested in this city on the night of June 26 by Special Officer John Regis for the Greek government, is still at large, and what is better he is right at home with his folks in Greece and his countrymen are aware of the fact.

DEMETRIUS VIRES

that he is wanted for murder. Accordingly Officer Regis of this city is still to get the 1900 fine or nearly $100 for the capture of this notorious fugitive.

A description of the murderer was sent to this city some time in June, and Officer Regis set out to work to capture if possible the man who was wanted for murder. After working hard on the case for a couple of weeks, his efforts were crowned with success, for on the evening of June 26, he placed Vires under arrest at the corner of Market and Suffolk streets. The man was taken to the police station, and there the police claim he admitted his guilt to two murders.

United States Inspector A. A. Seraphin of the bureau of immigration at Washington, D. C., had been on the man's trail for some time, but his charge had nothing to do with the complaints which had been copied over from Greece. The inspector alleged that the accused murderer was smuggled into this country as he could find no record of his ever having been properly entered at any of the ports in the east.

Both of Vires' murders were brutal affairs. On one man he used a knife, mutilating his body after death, and all possible chance of recognition.

lived at the home of his brother. These pictures show how he looked a few years ago when he weighed 230 pounds and as he looked when he returned from Europe, when he had fallen away to 150. He was reported found yesterday but later the report was denied.

"BIG TIM" SULLIVAN

Famous Character is Among the Missing

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A country wide search was started to discover the whereabouts of the missing "Timothy D. Sullivan, the famous "Big Tim" of the brewery, who was elected a member of congress from this state, but never served because of ill health. "Big Tim" had dropped out of sight for ten days before the fact was made public, and fears were felt for his life.

The big politician was confined for a time in a sanatorium for mental trouble. A few months ago he went to Europe for his health in charge of male nurses and was apparently in his right mind. He returned recently and

We extend a cordial invitation to all our former patrons as well as new ones. Remember the place, 368 Merrimack street, opposite City hall. New Idea Millinery Store, Mr. Gray, Manager.

The other man he shot in the back as he was leaving his store with a box within which rested his week's profits. In both these cases he escaped, fleeing to the hills after being pursued and shot at by a company of soldiers detailed to capture him. Later he robbed the priest of the village and this incensed the people so much against him that he found it expedient to leave the country and he chose America as his new home.

In Lowell he was arrested for assault and battery with a knife upon a fellow countryman, but fortunately he did not have the opportunity to carve his victim up to any great extent. He was placed on probation at that time.

After Vires was arrested in Lowell for murder he was taken to Boston, where he was given an examination, and later he was sent to Greece. Officer Regis, in order to make sure of the man reaching Greece, and being there turned over to the officers, informed the immigration officer that he would himself escort his prisoner to Europe, but he was referred to the Greek consul in Washington, who advised Regis not to go to Greece, for he said the reward was not large enough to cover the expenses. It was understood that Vires would be turned over to the captain of a ship sailing for Greece, and then to Greek government officials.

However, it seems that Vires was safely landed in Greece, and went home unmolested, for only a couple of days ago he wrote a letter to his uncle, George Vires or Market street, this city, informing him that he is at his home in Parrah, and in the best of health. He also states he is working every day, and enjoys the climate of the country more than he ever did before. He says he is pleased to have returned to his native land, for that was his only hope, but he was unable to do so before on account of being short of money for the trip. As it was he was returned to his home at the expense of the Greek government.

Officer Regis, when seen by the writer yesterday said he believes the murderer was given over to the custody of the ship captain with the understanding that he was to be taken care of during the long voyage and later turned over to the Greek officers. But that the captain has failed to do his duty to his reward of about $400. Mr. Regis is afraid that he will lose the reward unless the man is returned to the Greek government.

Brewery Workers Hold Annual Outing

The drivers, hatters and brewery workers of the Harvard brewery held an outing at Nabunasset grove yesterday and 300 men attended. Leaving this city shortly after 10 o'clock on three special cars the party arrived at the picnic grounds in time for the ball game which was scheduled to take place at 11:15. The game which was played between teams representing two of the different departments was very interesting and some plays were pulled off.

At noon dinner was served and music was furnished by a hurdy-gurdy. Several victrola selections were given and some of the players sang the popular songs to the enjoyment of all present.

Later in the afternoon a sporting program which consisted of jumping contests, races for fat men, three-legged race and other events were carried out and prizes were awarded to the winners. Considerable friendly rivalry existed at the races as many of the employees have been boasting for the past few days about their ability in athletics. Refreshments were served during the afternoon and an entertainment was furnished. It is planned to return to this city early this evening.

PLAYWRIGHT'S WIFE WINS

Mrs. Armstrong to Get $15,000 Alimony

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Weeks has granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Bella Abell Armstrong from Paul Armstrong, playwright, on report of J. Hampton Dougherty as referee, who took testimony in the case for some months. Under court rules testimony in the case is secret, but it was learned that the referee found the playwright guilty of misconduct with Miss Catherine Calvert, leading woman in his plays "Deep Purple" and "Romance of the Underworld."

The case was one of the most bitterly contested ever heard before a referee in this county, since the defendant and correspondent in the strongest terms denied that they had done anything improper and produced a number of witnesses to substantiate their denials. The referee regretted that he was compelled to find defendant and correspondent guilty, and in his report said:

"A deplorable aspect of the case is that it involves a young woman apparently at the outset of a successful professional career, but the conclusions drawn are virtually forced by testimony and documentary evidence. The contrary conclusion, that these intimate relations were innocent, that Armstrong was a sort of hero and benefactor who had given Miss Calvert her start in the theatrical world, the evidence does not justify me in reaching."

Miss Calvert, who is 22 years old, has been on the stage since she was 18 and first appeared in "Brown of Harvard." She then went into vaudeville and played in "When Love Was Young," and her next appearance was in Armstrong's "Deep Purple."

The referee recommended $15,000 a year alimony and the court approved his findings.

Canal Ready in December
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Completion of dry excavation on the Panama canal, just 10 days ahead of schedule time, advanced the work on the great waterway almost to the final stage. Much digging and cleaning out remains to be done in Culebra Cut and at other points along the route, but all of this will be accomplished by mammoth dredges floating on the surface of the canal.

The small vessels will probably be able to pass through the canal from end to end by October 10, and the waterway should be ready for shipping proper early in December.

EIGHT HURT IN CRASH NEAR AMESBURY

Amesbury

AMESBURY, Sept. 11.—Mrs. H. F. Baxter of Haverhill was seriously injured and seven others were slightly hurt yesterday in a collision of automobiles on Rocky hill. The machine of Alonzo Walker of Haverhill collided with that of George W. Dab-son of Lawrence. Both automobile parties had been visiting Salisbury beach to view the fire ruins.

In the machine owned and operated by Dabson were Walter Cheney, of Lawrence, superintendent of the Merrimack Paper company, and two women whose names were withheld. In the Walker machine were Mr. and Mrs. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Baxter, of Haverhill.

Both automobiles were going up the hill, almost abreast of each other. It is said that the Dabson machine was on the right side of the road and was attempting to turn into a side street when struck by the other car. Mr. Dabson says that Mr. Walker crossed in front of him without signalling that he was about to do so.

ELLIOTT DESIRES IMPROVEMENT

The air is filled with railroad news and railroad rumors these days and through all of them runs the welcome indication that the New Haven management, headed by Howard Elliott, is fully alive to the gravity of the situation, the critical public attitude and the reconstructive policies that must prevail if the New Haven road is to recover from the verge of receivership and fulfill its promise to its stockholders, the business men of New England and the public generally.

On Tuesday last President Elliott speaking before the Massachusetts public service commission in support of the New Haven's petition to issue debenture bonds to the value of $67,000,000 declared that if permission is given $7,000,000 will immediately be spent for the safety of the traveling public. He furthermore specified that this amount would be spent for the safeguarding of the people in ways that have long been publicly suggested such as by acquiring steel cars, re-viving the signal system and other mechanical means. It is evident that the new management has profited by the criticism of the past and is keenly awake to the power of public opinion for good or evil.

But President Elliott, like any other thoughtful man, realizes that no degree of reform in the mechanical properties of the road will adequately protect its patrons if there is not perfect discipline, mental and physical fitness for duty and a full sense of responsibility among the trainmen to whom the lives of thousands are daily entrusted. He therefore has issued a circular of instruction to all officers and employees of the road referring to the recent accident which he designates an "awful casualty" as the immediate reason for so doing. This document is well worthy of perusal not only by those for whom it is primarily intended but by all who have a sincere interest in the road and its management—whether they rank themselves with those who still condemn unreservedly, or those wiser and fairer ones who believe in giving the men at the head all the encouragement possible that they may repair the injury caused by past injudicious management.

The dominant quality of President Elliott's appeal is its direct simplicity. There is no attempt at florid rhetoric or blood dictation; it is an intensely human document vibrant with practical suggestion and common sense.

He pleads for the good will of his employees, reminding them that he came to the management of the New Haven to work with them. "We need your help," he says, "and we wish to help you. Each must help the other if this road is to be run safely." He tells them that no railroad can obtain safe operation that does not have the earnest and loyal support of its men. Not doubting the loyalty of those under him he asks that this loyalty be shown by the practical observation of existing regulations and the cordial acceptance of any further rules that are adopted for safety. He urges them to read and re-read all the rules in the time-tables and in the books governing the operation of stations, trains, yards, signals and every other railroad department.

Referring to the accident of Sept. 2, he makes the following significant statement: "This accident should not, however, and would not have occurred had the rules of the railroad been observed strictly, and good judgment, born of experience, been displayed." He then goes into the details of the rules and regulations that should have governed the movements of high trains, and says as an appendix: "It is true that rules cannot be made to cover every contingency, and much must depend on the intelligence and interest displayed by the particular individual in applying the rules." He voices the sentiments of the fair-minded people of this region when he graphically states: "The New Haven road is a great property and there is no reason why, with loyal support and hearty co-operation of all, it should not be made the best and safest road in the United States."

Another item of railroad news of interest is the retirement of Lucius Tuttle, former president of the Boston and Maine and one of the most notable railroad men in the country. Looking back from the judicial platform of time and distance the wisdom of his conservative policy can now be seen. Mr. Elliott will be successful if he bases his policy of reconstruction on those of Past-President Tuttle rather than on those of the unwisely speculative Mr. Nelson.

TARIFF BILL TRIUMPHANT

The tariff bill has come to the end of its weary journey through the senate and following brief conferences between both branches of the government it will receive the signature of the president and go to the country. Wisely or unwisely the democratic party has stood solid, as a splendid unit, and the bill will become law in practically the same form as its original draft. The fight is over.

President Wilson has demonstrated unmistakably that the idealism which many attributed to him, at the cost of practical statesmanship, has not prevented him from being an able and persistent leader. All who admire him will hope that his judgment and that of his supporters will prove as sound as his leadership proved successful.

In 1894 when the last low tariff bill was passed, it was so changed in the senate that the democratic president refused to sign it. The Payne-Aldrich bill, with its provisions drawn up by the business interests that needed "protection" was also easily juggled in the upper chamber. "The Underwood bill has had the unprecedented experience of having its changes in the upper chamber made in the interest of a lower tariff than that favored by the house. The slight party majority of the senate, swelled at the last moment by the votes of La Follette, republican, and Pinckney, progressive, has given the country a chance to pass judgment on the type of tariff that is at present needed by the people of this country.

The industries now await the working of the new measure with interest. It is not a time for doleful forebodings or just as injurious jubilation. The tariff bill was a party measure and is a splendid party success, but it is far too important to be made a vehicle of party aggrandizement or the contrary. Many of the greatest industrial leaders of the country, some of them opposed to the principle of low tariff, have declared that when the bill becomes law they will strive to give it a fair test. The people desired tariff revision; the democrats have given it to them. It now remains for the country to give it a fair and honest trial.

SANITY OF THAW

Harry Thaw was decidedly "mad" when the Canadian immigration authorities told him that he was to be deported, but he was not "mad" in the sense of being insane. On the contrary he acted as almost any man would act under the circumstances. He had studied all the intricacies of the habeas corpus law and was rudely acquainted of the fact that his knowledge and his struggles were alike futile from the standpoint of the Dominion. When he finally got a breathing spell as a free man in New Hampshire he acted very sanely indeed in trying to get in touch with his mother and his lawyers by telephone. "He was out of money and wished to get replenished. Even the disinterested alienists would not find him insane in that. Yet there is a growing suspicion in the country that were he to suddenly lose his fortune not only the alienists of the United States and Canada but the authorities of New York state would suddenly decide that he is sane and should not be confined in an asylum. Money is made the means of defeating justice in more senses than one.

THE SALISBURY FIRE

With the news of the disastrous Salisbury beach fire come accounts of great fires in Newburyport and Lynn. The total loss as given in the press comes close to $300,000. Yet we pride ourselves on leading the world in scientific fire fighting. On the theory that practice makes perfect there is very good reason for our supremacy. We may lead the world in fighting the flames but we will boast far more consistently when we lead the world in the feigning of our great conflagrations. So far as the Salisbury beach fire is concerned, one who goes through this resort or the greater number of our summer amusement places will not marvel that we have an occasional fire there but that any of them can long escape destruction. At most of our beaches the structures are built of the very flimsiest materials and so close together that when a fire starts in any one of them the whole mass becomes a raging bonfire. This has been demonstrated time and again, and yet as in the case of Salisbury, there is practically no protection against fire. Owners of property at summer beaches are taking a sporting chance on their investment.

SPEECHES ON CURRENCY THREE LONE FISHERMEN

Begun in the House Yesterday Went to Sea—Fed the Fish But Caught None

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Oratorical display attending the passage of the administration currency bill through the house began yesterday with a series of speeches for and against the measure.

The general discussion will continue throughout the day and night sessions of the house until Saturday evening. Next week the bill will be taken up in detail.

Chairman Glass of the banking and currency committee, father of the bill, Representative Hayes of California, republican ranking member of the committee and Representative Murdock of Kansas, progressive floor leader, opened the debate for respective parties. Chairman Glass presented the bill as a positive cure for the financial ills of the country; Representative Hayes admitted the value of some of the bill's provisions and Representative Murdock criticized the measure as "stalling, timid, half-way compromise."

SHIP'S FROM IRELAND

United Fruit Company of Boston Will Buy Vessels From Belfast, Ireland, Prior—Bufti Chaper There
BOSTON, Sept. 11.—That the United Fruit company of this city is negotiating with English shipbuilders for the construction of several new liners, developed last night following the arrival in Boston of Robert S. Johnson, a director of the Workman & Clark Co. of Belfast, Ireland.

No bids for the work have been asked, nor will there be any request for competitive bidding, according to a statement of President Preston of the fruit company.

"It is useless to ask for bids," he said. "We know we can get our work done cheaper in England."

The four car starters of the Bay State St. Ry. company who went on what was intended to be a deep sea fishing trip yesterday, say that the event was one which will long be remembered.

The party was composed of Walter Hickey, Elmer Glass, George Emsley and Billy Hayes. They left this city about half past eight in the morning, going to Boston, thence to Revere beach and from there to Marblehead. At the latter place, before starting out in the yacht of Mr. Smith.

Since the strong winds do not have the same effect upon electric cars that they do on boats, the boys were not as accustomed to the big swells and wavy motion which the big swells and breakers gave to the crew as they would have been, had they been sea pilots instead of trolley car guides. At first the rocking of the boat was a pleasing novelty but as it progressed, it soon began to have the usual effect upon the "land lubbers." The other three say that Billy Hayes was so seasick that he had to be rushed to the mast. This, however, was an exaggeration, for they simply had to watch him and hold him to keep him from falling over when the boat gave a particularly noticeable lurch as he didn't seem to care what happened him. It was on a similar trip last year that Bill was tied to the mast to insure his continuance as a member of the party and to save him from a watery grave. It must not be supposed that this that the others were experienced sailors, may, for they were in just about as much a condition from the effects of the rough sea as was Billy, though they evidently tried to make it appear that he was the weakest of the crowd. In spite of this, however, all "stayed up" throughout the trip.

The boys said that they did not get any fish for the reason that the weather was too rough for fishing and there were no fish markets at hand. It is quite probable that the task of keeping on deck occupied all their attention and they forgot the real object of the trip. They were on water three hours and when they finally returned to shore, they must have experienced a feeling of joy similar to that felt by Columbus when he stepped upon the American soil. They enjoyed every minute of the trip, the congenial company and the dinner and the boat ride. In spite of the rough sea, and returned home highly pleased with their day's outing. The one regret was that they had not even the foundation for a good fish story and "big ones that they got away." They know what it means to go to sea after eating a big dinner.

GET ORDERS TO SHOOT

Salisbury's Beach Ruins Under Armed Guard

SALISBURY BEACH, Sept. 11.—The ruins of the beach cottages, hotels and amusement places destroyed by fire were guarded last night by scores of police officers to prevent looting of the burned buildings and to guard against a possible re-igniting of the blaze. Walter Coulton, president of the Salisbury beach associates, owners of the beach, said last night that he felt certain that the three fires that followed Tuesday's conflagration were of incendiary origin. He also said that he had been told that a man had been seen running from a small boat, saw Peet's face turn pale, Hobbs hastily held out an ear, but Peet said: "It's no use, I'm sick." Before Hobbs could grasp him Peet went down in 15 feet of water.

Three inquiries into the origin of the fire were commenced here yesterday. The state police officers, the Salisbury town police and the associates, owners of the beach, each started a separate investigation.

Salem Man Drowned
MOUNTAIN VIEW, N. H., Sept. 8. H. Frank H. Peet, aged 51, of Salem, Mass., was drowned in Ossipee lake yesterday while bathing. His companion, Herbert N. Before Hobbs could grasp him Peet went down in 15 feet of water.

GREEK RESIDENTS ACTIVE

Many are Branching Into New Lines of Business

A prominent resident of the local Greek district predicted this morning that in five years from now the sons of Athens will not be so numerous in Lowell, for he said, Greece will be more prosperous in a few years than it has been for a long time, and many will take the opportunity to return to their motherland.

"Greece at the present time," said this man, "is very poor and it will take about five years before the country is back to its normal condition. There is no question that Greece will be more prosperous than ever after all the troubles of the recent war are settled, for she has enlarged her territory, and that means a lot. Her sons will settle right down to business and the country, which is a very fertile one, will resume its activities."

Speaking about the Lowell Greeks, this gentleman said they are branching into other lines of business and already several of them have left the mills and secured employment elsewhere. Many of them have gone into the farming business in France and Tennessee and surrounding towns, and inasmuch as they are clever farmers their business is very prosperous. Some of the land workers are now raising Greek vegetables which are in great demand among the Greeks.

Many of the business men contemplate the purchase of real estate on Market street and the election of new buildings. Next year will probably show a great improvement in Market street.

There are two drug stores in the community, several barber shops and numerous cafes and fruit stores. A tailor is making clothes for men, while a sewing machine agent has opened a salesroom in the vicinity. A jeweler supplies the district with wedding supplies and other pieces of jewelry, as well as keeping their timepieces in good working order, while recently a shoemaker opened a little shop of his own next to the photographer, who "snaps" your face while you wait. Among the other business men are bakers, milk dealers, cigar manufacturers and others, including a dry goods store, a ticket agency office, shoe shine parlors, pool room and a wine store.

All the above places are either owned or conducted by Greeks and they all seem to be doing good business, even the man who sells coal and wood. However, the cafes are more numerous, but nevertheless the owners have several men in their employ and they all get along.

The Greeks point with pride to three of the most elegantly equipped ice cream and confectionery parlors in Lowell and a restaurant that will equal any in town in point of equipment and ornamentation.

The business men on account of the great exodus from this city, report that business has dropped some during the past year, but they are sure there will be a boom pretty soon, for several of the Lowell boys who left this city to fight for their country are scheduled to return sometime this month. If they all return together the Lowell boys will have a warm reception and it is planned to celebrate the arrival of the brave soldiers in a manner that will surprise the other residents of this city.

If present plans are carried out a monster parade will be held upon the arrival of the heroes in Lowell, and this will be followed by a grand banquet which will be attended by many. Able speakers will also be in attendance and good speeches will be heard.

Numerous letters have been received by local residents to the effect that the Lowell boys will soon return, and it is safe to say they will all be welcomed by their friends and employers, for the departure of these soldiers somewhat crippled some departments in the cotton mills. The man who stands ready to risk his life for his country is a patriot and if the Greeks become American citizens and become as devoted to their adopted country as to their native land, they will be a source of strength to this republic.

MASTERED BY A MANIAC

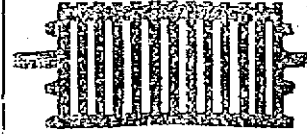

Insane Sailor Takes Possession of Vessel

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Somewhere in the Atlantic ocean, mastered by a maniac and manned by a frightened crew, the Norwegian bark Ravensport is rushing, possibly to destruction, according to a story told yesterday by Captain Hansen of the steamship Admiral Schley, which arrived from Jamaica.

The Ravensport was bound from Danik, Scotland, to a Gulf port. On the voyage a German Swede sailor became insane and in his crazy temper cut and slashed the crew all night. He was captured and confined after two of the crew had been seriously injured. Captain Duns, master of the ship, put off in a small boat for Buft Bay to get medical aid.

Just as his boat reached shore, the maniac broke loose and commanded that the crew raise the anchor. When they were unable to do so he ordered the chain broken, which was done. When Captain Duns saw his ship sailing away he started in pursuit in the small boat. He chased 10 miles and wore out the men who were rowing and they were forced to turn back.

HUB DEMMIES PROTEST

Against Naming Edmund Billings Collector

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo announced last evening over the long distance telephone that he had sent to President Wilson recommendations that Edmund Billings of this city be appointed collector of the port of Boston; that Joseph A. Maynard, chairman of the Boston democratic city committee, be appointed surveyor of the port, and that ex-Sen. John F. Malley of Springfield be appointed collector of internal revenue.

The action of Secretary McAdoo relative to the selection of Mr. Billings was taken in the face of a storm of protests from many of the democratic leaders throughout the state.

It bred open revolt in the ranks of a hitherto harmonious democracy and created a situation that became so grave that several of the democratic leaders including Lieut. Governor Walsh himself, went over Secretary McAdoo's head and appealed to the president to block the appointment.

So bad was the situation last night that it threatened to rip wide open the solid front with which it was expected the democracy would go into the coming state fight and wreck all chances of the election of David L. Walsh as governor.

Mr. Billings is the chairman of the executive committee of the Good Government association. He was for years the secretary of that association, and was the manager of the Storrow campaign in the last mayoralty fight.

He has always been considered one of the bitterest foes of the present city democracy.

COMMEMORATE 100 YRS. OF PEACE

Solemn Services Marked Conclusion of Centennial Celebration of Battle of Lake Erie

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio, Sept. 11.—With an honorary escort composed of the solemn religious services, participated in by representatives of the United States and the British Empire, and with impressive military exercises, the remains of the six American and British officers killed in the Battle of Lake Erie one hundred years ago yesterday, were today disinterred from the burial plot on the shore of Put-in-Bay Island, where they have rested for a century, and re-interred in the crypt of the Perry Memorial. This ceremony marked the conclusion of the centennial celebration of the battle of Lake Erie, commemorating one hundred years of peace between English-speaking peoples, under the auspices of the commissioners appointed by the president of the United States, and the governors of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, New York, Rhode Island, Kentucky, Minnesota and Louisiana.

The preparation for transferring the remains had been in progress for some time. The whole of the burial enclosure, where the remains were known to be without designation of the particular spot, had been excavated over a circular area sixty feet in diameter. Such bones of the martyrs as had survived a century's interment, were found to be numerous, but there was no complete skeleton and no means of identification. The remains had been gathered up several days ago and placed in a copper-lined, hermetically sealed box, and then re-interred in the same spot, awaiting today's exercises.

Religious Exercises

Upon arrival of the centennial commissioners, distinguished guests and the military and naval escorts of the official party from Cedar Point at 11 o'clock this morning, a procession formed at the docks and proceeded to the ancient burial plot. The copper box, containing the remains, had been taken from its shallow resting place, and a detail of Rhode Island militiamen lifted it to the beautiful funeral hearse which had been prepared for its reception. While this ceremony was in progress, solemn religious exercises were conducted by Right Rev. James DeWolf Perry, Jr., bishop of Rhode Island, representing the United States, and the venerable Archdeacon H. J. Cody, D. D., L. D., rector of St. Paul's church, Toronto, for the Dominion of Canada. The speech in the morning every spot around and reaching far away along the shore lines of the harbor, stood with uncovered heads in profound silence. Bells tolled in the village churches and minute guns were fired from the naval militia ships in the harbor. The First Light Infantry band of Rhode Island sounded the opening note of a dirge, as the funeral hearse, beautifully draped in black satin and silk American and British flags, moved on the shoulders of sturdy soldiers from Rhode Island. Commodore Perry's native state toward the memorial along the rocky skirting the picturesque harbor of Put-in-Bay.

Marshall and Staff

Col. Harry Cutler, commanding the first light infantry of Providence, R. I., was marshal of the day, with the following staff: George H. Wood, adjutant general of Ohio; chief of staff, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A. (retired); Rear Admiral Charles H. Davis, U. S. N. (retired); Major General J. Warren Keifer, Ohio; George M. Lowry, U. S. N. R. C. Vandercook, adjutant general; Michigan; Frank C. Dickson, adjutant general; Illinois; John C. Salomon, adjutant general; Wisconsin; J. Randy Ellis, adjutant general; Kentucky; Fred B. Wood, adjutant general; Louisiana; Major Geo. W. Neff, Pennsylvania; Major Christopher F. Baker, Newport Artillery company, Rhode Island militia; Captain Walter M. Baker, adjutant general, First Light Infantry regiment, Rhode Island; Captain Chesley R. Perry, Illinois; Milton W. Shreve, M. C. Pennsylvania; T. R. Alexander, mayor, Put-in-Bay; M. S. Johansson, Put-in-Bay, Ohio; C. S. Magruder, Cleveland.

The military escort to the memorial formed in the following order:

Provisional battalion U. S. Infantry, Capt. H. A. Smith, U. S. A. command; line officers and men from the U. S. A. Worthington, Capt. Geo. M. Lowry, U. S. N. R. C. commanding; Brig. Gen. Chas. W. Abbott, Jr., adjutant general, Rhode Island, commanding; third company, C. A. C. Rhode Island National Guard; Third division Rhode Island battalion; officers and men from the U. S. ships Essex, Don, and Australia, Hawk, Dorchester, Newport Artillery company, Rhode Island militia; First Light Infantry, Rhode Island militia.

The funeral was preceded by

Honorary Escort

Chief marshal, honorary staff and aides; band, First Light Infantry regiment; Rhode Island militia; ex-President William Howard Taft and Dr. T. A. MacDonald, Toronto, Ont., escorted by the governor of the province, Lord Bessborough, and the representatives of foreign governments; Gov. James M. Cox, Ohio, and staff; Gov. John K. Tener, Pennsylvania, and staff; Gov. Woodbridge S. Ferris, Michigan, and staff; Gov. Edward P. Duane, Illinois, and staff; Gov. Francis E. McFarland, Wisconsin, and staff; Gov. John J. Folger, Rhode Island, and staff; Gov. James H. McCleary, Kentucky, and staff; Gov. Samuel L. Halston, Indiana, and staff; members of the interstate board of the Perry's victory centennial commission; officiating clergymen; Rt. Rev. James DeWolf Perry, Jr., bishop of Rhode Island, and Venerable Archdeacon H. J. Cody, D. D., L. D., rector of St. Paul's church, Toronto, Ont.

Arrived at the memorial reservation, only a limited number of the escorting party were admitted to the memorial. The crypt of the memorial, a dome-like chamber 40 feet in diameter, was draped with the American and British colors. The box containing the remains, draped in the same international insignia, had been taken from the funeral hearse and carried up the broad temporary stairway leading to the entrance to the memorial. Commissioners of the centennial, representatives of the United States and Great Britain, governors of state and distinguished guests stood with bowed heads as the century-old bones of the heroes of the battle of Lake Erie were committed to their last resting place beneath the floor of the great memorial now rising in their honor.

YOUNG SAILOR ATHLETE

Lowell Boy Has Won Many Medals

Edward C. Bibeault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bibeault of 110 Ford street, has returned to this city on a furlough after an absence of four years. During this time the young man has been connected with the naval training station at Norfolk, Va., and has traveled extensively with his shipmates.

For the past three years Mr. Bibeault has been in Cuba and has served at all of the large naval posts on the island. Previous to the Cuban trip he spent some time on board a man-of-war and cruised over most of the civilized world before returning to America.

Bibeault is one of the most versatile athletes in the navy today. He is a track and field athlete of ability and has won several of his medals to the credit of his team. His most notable performance was probably in the broad jump in which event the Lowell boy cleared nearly 23 feet in the big naval meet held last April.

He is also a wrestler and boxer well renowned among his fellows. Bibeault recently challenged the holder of the navy middleweight wrestling title for a contest and it is expected that the affair will be pulled off shortly after his return to Norfolk.

The athletic young sailor intends to stay here for another week and then visit several other places on his way down the coast to his post. Bibeault is well known here in athletic circles.

Robbed Chicago Clerk in Front of Bank

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Four robbers today seized a satchel containing $4000 in currency and $1000 in checks from William Warrington McAvoy, 15 years old, a messenger of the Garfield park state savings bank and escaped in an auto. The robbery occurred on the sidewalk in front of the bank, which is on the West Side.

The bandits accomplished the theft without the display of a revolver. McAvoy had stepped from a door of the institution with the money and checks in a small satchel and was waiting for a street car when the four drove up in the machine. He was to take the package to a downtown bank.

HEARING ON NEW HAVEN PETITION

Many Present in Rooms of Mass. Public Service Board Today at Resumption of Session

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—A number of Boston financiers not only endorsed the petition of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad for the approval by the public service commission of its proposed $67,000,000 bond issue at the hearing before the commission yesterday, but announced that they had altered their opinion regarding the ownership of trolley and steamship lines, and believed that the road should retain them.

Representatives of financial interests, stockholders and the general public thronged the rooms of the Massachusetts public service commission again today at the resumption of the hearings on the petition of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad for permission to issue debenture bonds to the amount of $67,000,000. It was the third day of the hearings.

H. M. Kochersperger, financial vice president of the New Haven, had not completed his testimony when the hearing adjourned yesterday and was called as the first witness today. He outlined the uses to which the road proposes to put the money.

Endorsed the Issue

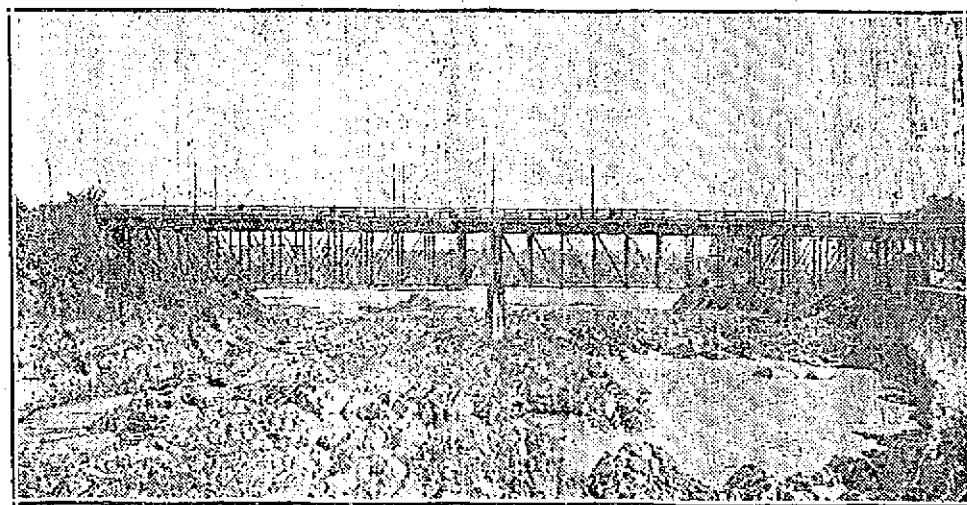

After President J. H. O'Neill of the Federal Trust Co. of Boston had endorsed the issue and had said the New Haven company would have to pay a good commission Vice President Kochersperger resumed his testimony with the production of additional statements regarding the finances of the company and the purposes for the proceeds of the bond issue would be applied.

Mr. Kochersperger said that among the proposed expenditures were $5,000,000 for a new signal system between New Haven and Readville and $12,000,000 for other improvements along the shore line.

He said that $7,000,000 would be required for the steel cars that have been ordered and between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000 for a new station, repair shops and steamboat landing at New Haven.

He said that the funded debt of the company was $226,571,150 and that the capital stock was $122,628,551. Under the Massachusetts law recently passed

MOODY BRIDGE CLOSED FOR REPAIRS—VEHICLES USE CONDEMNED STRUCTURE

VIEW OF MOODY STREET BRIDGE NOW CLOSED FOR REPAIRS

Because of the fact that the Moody street bridge has been closed to vehicular travel since the week after the Rockingham fair the Pawtucket bridge, condemned and re-condemned years ago for heavy travel is being used by all kinds of vehicles.

The question of the safety of the Pawtucket bridge is revived at this time because of the extra travel. Former City Engineer Bowers contends that the bridge is not absolutely safe and it will be remembered that years ago when the bridge was first declared unsafe, Charlie Moran, then superintendent of streets, crossed the structure on a steam roller just to give the "defy" to the men who had declared it unsafe.

Every reader of The Sun will recall the agitation for a new bridge to take the place of the present bridge and engineers from out-of-town who were brought here for the purpose of examining the bridge, a majority of them at least, declared that it was all right. They recommended the tightening up of nuts and a few minor repairs and in view of their reports and recommendations city councils have been unwilling to consider the bridge unsafe or to vote for a new bridge.

The Moody bridge is open to foot travel and all persons using the line crossing that bridge are obliged to walk across. The work on the bridge includes new flooring, concreting and a little painting. All kinds of vehicles from street cars to road rollers and ice wagons are at present crowding over the Pawtucket bridge without any apparent sense of danger.

happily, politically, as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement, leveled at Tammany hall leaders and other political opponents in which he referred to them as "misérable scamps," and asserted they were seeking his "moral assassination."

The bullet that lodged in his throat three years ago had never been removed.

Mayor Gaynor's sudden death completely overthrows the municipal political situation. It removes from the

on the Gaynor ticket have yet been filed.

Clean Out Grafters

Mayor Gaynor was placed at the head of the independent ticket after Tammany had refused him a renomination. His standard was the shovel, reminding voters of his efforts to hasten the building of the new subways. The mayor also said it was emblematic of his intention to "clean the grafters out."

The passing of Mayor Gaynor recalled the sudden death of Henry George of single tax fame and a third party candidate almost on the eve of the New York mayoralty election 16 years ago.

Secretary Adamson received the cablegram announcing the mayor's death while he was at his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Adamson notified Mrs. Gaynor at the mayor's country home at St. James and then endeavored to reach by telephone, Adolph Kline, the acting mayor, who will be New York's chief executive until the inauguration of Mayor Gaynor's successor, to be elected in November.

LEADER MURPHY SAYS HE DEEPLY REGRETS GAYNOR'S DEATH

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, whom Mayor Gaynor, just before sailing, had scathingly denounced as chief of the forces opposing him, had this to say upon learning of the mayor's death:

"I was very much shocked. I knew he went away a very sick man. I deeply regret his death."

INTERESTING CAREER OF THE LATE WILLIAM JAY GAYNOR, MAYOR OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—William Jay Gaynor was born on a farm near Whitestown, N. Y. in 1851. He graduated from the Whitestown seminary, went to Boston to teach school and afterwards studied law. In 1873 young Gaynor went to Brooklyn and became a newspaper reporter. Two years later he was admitted to the bar.

From that moment until his death Gaynor had lived in the midst of continual political warfare. He started it with an attack upon the unlicensed brokers in Flatbush, a section of Brooklyn, and won.

Ten years later he led a successful fight against the so-called McLaughlin ring in Brooklyn. His winning fight against John V. McKane, the political boss of Gravesend, attracted nationwide attention. McKane died in Sing Sing.

Mr. Gaynor was elected a justice of the supreme court of New York in 1893 on a nomination given him by republicans and independent democrats, was re-elected in 1897, but resigned to accept the nomination of mayor of New York, to which he was re-elected in November, 1900.

His administration of his office bore the imprint of his personality in many striking innovations. As he expressed it he "never quarreled with the organization because I was too busy. I simply went on and did my work from day to day and I kept their hands out of the public treasury."

Mayor Gaynor was a writer of many letters and attracted national attention by these and his policies. Prior to the democratic national convention in 1912 the mention of his name was frequent in connection with the nomination for president. He did not have the support of the democratic organization in this state, however, and was not an active candidate for the nomination.

Mrs. Gaynor, with one of her unmarried daughters, is at St. James. The other two unmarried daughters are at boarding schools up the Hudson.

STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Shoemakers at Federal Shop Go Back

At a meeting last night of the boot and shoe workers who recently went out on strike at the Federal Shoe company because a request for higher wages was not granted them, it was voted to declare the strike off and go back to work for the same wages as were formerly paid. The men, forty in number, have been out of work for the past four weeks and during that time the officials at the shoe factory have secured other employees and it was stated this morning by Superintendent Shanahan that at the present time he had no work for the strikers.

An organizer from the Boot and Shoe Workers' union was in town a part of the four weeks in the hope of organizing the Federal and other shops.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY BODY

MEDFORD, Sept. 11.—The body of the man killed by a train on the Portland division of the Boston & Maine railroad, outside of tracks near Medford Wellington station and Medford branch switch tower early yesterday morning is still at the Nichols undertaking rooms, 36 High street, awaiting identification.

A button of Truckmen, Chauffeurs and Helpers' Union 25 was found on the lapel of the black coat worn by the dead man. Two officials of this union in Boston came to Medford yesterday afternoon and failed to identify the victim.

DIAMOND DAZZLES

Lawrence will be with us tomorrow for two games. Spaulding Park has been an active member of this week. Brockton will close the season here Saturday.

Perhaps that little affair with Constable McManus in the morning upset Bushelman's pitching arm. Bushelman is another twirler who when he is right is practically unhittable.

The post season will start next Wednesday in Lowell. Thursday Hartford will also play here and then a trip will be made to the Connecticut city, where two more of the contests will be played off.

Manager Gray has sent word to President Conkley of the White Sox that he will pay any reasonable price to keep Daly here for the post season series. Although Thomas is going well and Murphy has again rejoined the local club, Daly would be a tower of strength against Hartford.

It is expected that Finnegan will be back also for the series. Word was received that he would probably join the club the first of next week.

Carroll split his finger in the first game and was forced to retire. McCune filled in behind the bat for the remainder of the game. When the second contest was called McCune was the batter and Delaney behind the bat.

The latter, however, had several passed balls in quick succession and he and McCune were ordered to swap places.

Big Jeff Pfeffer looked awfully good yesterday especially when he leaned on the ball that soared over the fence. Jeff also fielded his position in good style.

Lawrence won their double header from Fall River yesterday in Salem. The league is trying hard to revive baseball interest in this city and indications point to a team there next season.

LOWELL WINS AND LOSES

Split Double Bill with Worcester

—Maybohm Holds Visitors in First—Van Dyke a Puzzle

Lowell split with Worcester in yesterday afternoon's double bill, winning the first game 6 to 3, and losing the second, 7 to 4. The games were played in weather which was unfavorable to baseball but in spite of this fact the crowd enjoyed the two contests and several spectacular plays were pulled off.

Maybohm and Bushelman were the opponents in the first game. This was the first appearance of the local twirler for two weeks. He has been laid up with a split hand which he received from a hard hit line drive, but yesterday, notwithstanding this fact, pitched superb ball and was unable to connect when his mean runs while Bushelman was touched up for ten hits and was wild.

Walsh opened the game with a fly to Magee. Shorten flied to left. Roos singled to left but was thrown out trying to steal. Maybohm scored a run in the second half. Clemens walked. Miller tried to sacrifice but popped an easy one. Thomas was called out on strikes. With Magee at the bat Clemens stole second and scored when Magee singled to left. Halstein walked and with two men on DeGroot was called out on strikes.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 0.

Worcester went out in order in the second while Lowell scored five more runs. Magee made a running catch. Pfeffer's fly. Carroll grounded out to Miller and Aubrey threw out DeLaney. Aubrey walked and took third on DeLaney's infield hit. Maybohm scored. Aubrey advanced free on a hit. Clemens was a victim on strikes. Miller scored DeLaney with a single to center and on the throw to the plate. Miller going to third. Magee flied a high fly which Delaney misjudged and was safe on first. Miller scored on the play and Thomas went to third. Magee stole second. Halstein singled to right. Thomas scored on the hit and Magee advanced to third. Halstein started second and Magee scored when Carroll threw to Nye. After considerable chasing Halstein was pegged out between first and second.

Score: Lowell 6, Worcester 0.

The score remained unchanged in the third. Nye singled to left. Stewart flied to Clemens. Bushelman struck out and on the third strike Nye stole second. Miller threw out Walsh.

DeGroot fanned and Aubrey duplicated the feat. Dee grounded out to Pfeffer.

Score: Lowell 6, Worcester 0.

Worcester scored her first run in the fourth. After Shorten had grounded to Aubrey, Roos singled to left

DEFENDS THE BULGARIAN TROOPS

Professor Stephanove Says Bulgaria Was Not the Aggressor in Latest Balkan War

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Constantine Stephanove, professor of English literature in the University of Sofia, Bulgaria, has written a letter to friends in New York in which he defends Bulgaria from the allegations made by the press that she was the aggressor in the latest Balkan war, and that Bulgarian troops had committed a series of atrocities in southeastern Europe.

The letter is dated Sofia, where Professor Stephanove resides, and was written in August shortly after the conclusion of peace at Bucharest. The writer begins by describing the isolation in which Bulgaria had found herself for several weeks past. Her enemies, Serbia, Roumania, Greece and Montenegro, he says, had practically impossible for Bulgaria to communicate with the outside world during the first months of the fighting, taking advantage of this condition to circulate abroad a number of misleading and even mendacious statements concerning the progress of the war, all reflecting on Bulgaria. He then outlines the secret treaty concluded last May between Turkey and Greece, by which Greece guaranteed Turkey armed assistance for the reconquest of Adrianople. Turkey in return pledged support to Greece for the seizure of Thrace. The conspiracy of Serbia, Roumania, Greece, Montenegro and Turkey against Bulgaria is characterized as one of the most complete recorded in history, and a distinct action against the circulation of baseless and lying reports, all designed to injure Bulgaria in the eyes of the world, and which Bulgaria was at Adrianople and Tchataldja had been brought across the border into Macedonia by June 30. The burning and looting of the village of Zito, by the Serbians, was the first serious incident to provoke war. A Macedonian leader named Arbanas retaliated on the Serbians for this attack, and the following day the Serbians advanced against the regular Bulgarian army. The Bulgarian troops retaliated and drove their enemies back for a distance of twenty miles.

"That same day the fighting became general all along the border. Bulgaria was attacked by Serbians, Greeks and Montenegrins. Against the entire Greek army of 200,000 men Bulgaria had barely 30,000 men under General Ivanoff. Nevertheless, on the first and second days of the fighting, Bulgaria routed her enemies, inflicting tremendous losses.

The defeat of the Serbians and the Greeks was complete, when to the consternation of the Bulgarian soldiers there came orders to stop fighting and return to their original positions. The order was a fatal one. The army cried bitterly when called upon to obey it, but Russia, who had promised to fulfill the stipulations of the Serbo-Bulgarian treaty for the protection of Macedonia, but without success. It was for the freedom of Macedonia that Bulgaria engaged in the Balkan war. With her army still at Tchataldja and Gallipoli it was unthinkable that Bulgaria should declare war upon her former allies.

Cruel Attacks
"Serbia and Greece inaugurated a series of cruel attacks, meanwhile, upon the Bulgarian population of Macedonia. Thousands were imprisoned, maltreated, and many even suffered death. Other thousands escaped into Bulgaria. The following the Greek riots at Serres, Angista, Nozritza, etc., in which many Bulgarian soldiers were killed from ambush by Greek bands. The Bulgarian outpost at Angista resisted and in revenge the Greeks executed a small Bulgarian garrison at Salonica.

"There were other similar skirmishes on the border. What could Bulgaria do? She appealed to Russia, the arbiter of the Serbo-Bulgarian treaty, but Russia failed to act. She appealed also to the powers, but her cry was ignored. Serbia and Greece, fortified by their secret understandings with Roumania and Turkey, rapidly became unbearable in their attitude. FIRE IN NORTH STATION

Explosion Set Cars Afire
—Trains Delayed

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Considerable excitement followed the explosion of an automobile tank on an engine in the North station after 6:30 o'clock last night. For a time it was feared that a serious fire would result. Pedestrians in the station ran toward the exits, while commuters who were in their seats on a leading local train, numbering more than 100 men and women, hurried to places of safety.

The flames lit up the entire station and caused damage amounting to about $500. Two passenger coaches on the Montreal train due to leave the station at 7:45 were scorched and nearly all of the windows on the side nearest the fire were blown out. Fortunately there were no passengers in these cars. The Reading train, which was scheduled to leave the station at 7:45, was on track 2 and the Montreal train on track 12. Suddenly there was an explosion under the boiler of the engine and the report was followed by a sheet of flame which spread up around the engine and across toward the passenger coaches.

The engineer and firemen jumped from their positions while attaches in the station sought to quiet those on the Reading train. The Reading train was sounded from box 770, but when District Chief Fox and apparatus arrived the flames had practically burned themselves out.

A new engine was attached to the Reading train which left the station at 7:05 o'clock, while two other coaches were substituted for those damaged on the Montreal train.

At 6:25 o'clock there was an alarm from box 755 at the South station. The call was needless, having been sounded by an excited man who saw one of the locomotives blowing off steam.

MAN WALKS ON WATER

Strolled Over Surface of the Charles River

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Scores of idlers and pleasure seekers along the Charles river esplanade between the Wythe Boston and Craigie bridges were treated yesterday afternoon to the novel spectacle of a young man strolling with apparent unconcern over the surface of the broad basin between the Boston and Cambridge shores.

It was the first exhibition of the latest pastime of water walking as it has been developed by J. A. Truesdale of Lynn. The new sport, according to its demonstrator, is twice as much fun as snow shoeing or skating and has the added fascination of being considerably more hazardous to the beginner.

Truesdale made his start from the bath-house close to the viaduct and for some 20 minutes walked about on the water without any mishap. So confident was he of his skill that he refused to allow a boat to follow him. Used to allow a boat to follow him. They are air and water tight and the foot is fitted in to the upper portion in such a way that it can be easily freed in case of a tipover. Each is supplied with a system of propellers, the secret of which is carefully guarded.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Stomach Misery, Indigestion in Five Minutes

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach, or like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you have gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on the fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes.

"Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and purify assimilated into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it. Indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery, disappear for some time, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

GROGERS AND BUTCHERS

Will Continue Thursday Afternoon Closing

The members of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association held an important meeting at the Builders' exchange last night with President E. A. Fitzpatrick in the chair. Considerable business was transacted, among which was a unanimous vote to close the establishments Thursday afternoons during the fall and winter seasons, which means that the grocers and butchers' stores will hereafter close Thursday afternoons the entire year.

The committee which is looking after the Sunday closing reported some vibrations about town, and the names of the officers will be handed to the proper authorities, if the violations are continued.

An interesting report of the recent outing of the association was given by E. M. Bowers, secretary and treasurer, who said that from every point of view the affair was the most successful ever conducted by the association. Votes of thanks were extended to the jobbers of Lowell, Peter Buttermore and the Day State Street Railway Co., who greatly helped to make the affair a success.

30 WOMEN FIGHT BLAZE

Avert Possible Conflagration at Lynn

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Women as civic servants came into their own yesterday afternoon at Lake Shore park, Lynn, when 30, under the leadership of Mrs. Sarah Waring and Mrs. Bertha Haskell put out a blaze that threatened to destroy the home of Edward Lynch and might have spread rapidly about the park.

These women for some time have been organized as a fire protection society with Mrs. Waring as chief and Mrs. Haskell as assistant chief. They felt that their aid would some day be required in a district where few men were at hand in the day time, and they had practiced fire fighting thoroughly.

The fire when discovered was breaking through the roof of the Lynch home and only prompt work could save it. The chief rushed to the little fire station built by the women themselves, and with the help of others of their sex rolled the hose reel to the scene of the blaze. It was quick work, and the fire was out in a few minutes. In perfect order the two led their forces against the fire.

Through the smoke the chemical line was carried up the stairs and a stream directed into the flames with such success that in a short time only a few smoldering bits of wood told where the danger had been. The damage will not exceed $300.

Meanwhile someone had sounded an alarm on the Peabody fire whistle and the department from that town came over the three miles of road to the scene. By the time they reached the Lynch home the fire was out, and the women directed their energies to coiling the hose and congratulating the women.

SENSATION IN COURT

Supposed $1,000,000 Estate is Insolvent

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—A sensation was created in the probate court of Norfolk county, sitting at Quincy yesterday, when the estate of the late George E. Williams of Braintree was found to be insolvent instead of amounting to $1,000,000, as supposed.

The discovery was made when several creditors represented by prominent lawyers, appeared with claims aggregating between $500,000 and $600,000, and when a minority of the creditors entered objections to the appointment of Albert Hunt of Braintree as executor.

When Judge Flint declared that he would appoint special administrators under the will and if he did not, Mr. Hunt declined to withdraw "under fire."

Judge Flint then announced that he would appoint the special administrators, one of whom is to be Mr. Hunt, and the second to be agreed upon by counsel for the minority creditors. No objection was raised to this move, and the probating of the will was held in abeyance.

Some bitterness was injected into the hearing when one of the attorneys declared that just prior to Mr. Williams' death he (Williams) had received $500,000 and demanded to know what had become of the money. Executor Hunt was on his feet in an instant, resenting what he claimed was an indirect assertion that he had knowledge of the money in question.

The hearing developed charges that some of the paper included in the estate of the deceased is questionable, though part of it is secured. It was also intimated that some of the notes have been raised, and that the affairs of the estate are in a highly complicated state.

The Home Beauty Parlor

By Betty Dean

Melly O. You can't expect to keep your hair healthy or free from dandruff without care or by brushing only. For years I have treated my hair regularly with this simple, home-made tonic, which keeps my hair and scalp both perfectly healthy, and so has given me a fine growth of lustrous hair. Dissolve one ounce quinine in 1-2 pint alcohol and add 1-2 pint water. Massage this carefully into the scalp once a week. It will induce a natural, healthy, luxuriant growth of hair and give it richness and glossiness. For an excellent, home-made shampoo see recipe given Golden-Hair.

Mrs. J. Yes, you are over-fat. I am glad I can tell you how to reduce without the risk of dieting or the discomfort of walking long distances. Try this remedy: To 1-2 pints of hot water add 1 ounce of paraffin. Let dissolve and cool. Take a tablespoonful before each meal. This is a safe and sure treatment and has the big advantage of reducing the flesh evenly and gradually, so there will be no sagging or loss of tissue strength.

Mersey: I think you are unduly worried about your skin. Most users of face powders have more or less similar trouble. Here is a simple, home-made lotion which is better than face powder and which on some part of the skin, to which it gives a soft, velvety texture and a beautiful natural color. Get 4 ounces of sorbusin, dissolve in 1-2 pint hot water and add two teaspoons glycerine. Stir well. You may apply this freely to face, neck and arms. It is a cheap, safe, liquid beautyifier which will work wonders to purify your skin and hide its imperfections.

Warrior: Your letter leads me to believe that to remove the yellowness of neck and chin all you need is a good blue soap. There is a fine one that will brace you up and clear your complexion and (like everything I recommend) is easily made at home at slight cost: Mix together 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 pint alcohol (40% whiskey) and one ounce of glycerine. Add two hot water to make a full quart, and take a tablespoonful before each meal. I know nothing better for the general run-down condition.

Golden-Hair: No, the canthrox mixture is a simple home-made shampoo and is not a hair bleach or a dye in any sense. The "blonde" effect your friend spoke of was probably due to the fact that this preparation takes out all excess oil and dirt and cleans each strand so thoroughly as to keep the lightest hair from turning dark. To use it simply dissolve one teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This is plenty for a thorough cleansing with beautiful, fluffy results. I know no shampoo which compares with it.

Mrs. Bly: Your wrinkles can be quickly, easily and permanently removed by the use of this stimulating jelly-cream. It is a vegetable preparation which will not grow hair where used and is easily made at home at small cost. From your druggist get one ounce almond and dissolve it in 1-2 pint of water, adding two teaspoons glycerine. Stir and let stand one day. This is fine to fill out wrinkles and hollows, and will also tone the skin to fine, clear health and beauty. You will feel its stimulating power on the first application.

Pearl: You are on the road to serious eye-trouble if you continue to neglect that weak, dizzy vision. Try this tonic for a while and it will remove the real appearance and give back the clearness, strength and sparkle of your eyes. Mix one ounce crystals in a pint of water. Use 2 or 3 drops in each eye, night and morning. This natural tonic will soothe the tired nerves, rest inflamed lids and brighten the eyes.

After Long Suffering

Women Are Constantly Being Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Worth mountains of gold," says one woman: "Another says, 'I would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all the other medicines for women in the world.' Still another writes, 'I should like to have the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound thrown on the sky with a searchlight so that all suffering women could read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their ills.'"

We could fill a newspaper ten times the size of this with such quotations taken from the letters we have received from grateful women whose health has been restored and suffering banished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such a universal success? Why has it lived and thrived and kept on doing its glorious work among the sick women of the world for more than 30 years?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has ever approached its success is plainly and simply because there is no other medicine so good for women's ills.

Here are two letters that just came to the writer's desk—only two of thousands, both tell a comforting story to every suffering woman who will read them and be guided by them.

FROM MRS. D. H. BROWN.
Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I suffered with three doctors who did me no good. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken 12 bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. Brown, 503 North Walnut Street, Iola, Kan.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS:
Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for 14 years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such a fearful bearing down feeling, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sanative Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

All these testimonials are guaranteed genuine and truthful. The original of each came to us entirely unolicited. They are sincere expressions of gratitude for actual benefits received from the medicine.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy. Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Labor Man Says Turmoil and Destruction is Aim

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Sept. 11.—In his annual report to the state convention of the Federation of Labor yesterday, Pres. Thomas A. Flanagan denounced the Industrial Workers of the World, saying that its leaders are a band of men who travel about the country starting labor troubles, and then parading as if they were doing some good for the wage workers. The aim of the organization, President Flanagan declared, was "turmoil and destruction." He said the rank and file of intelligent workers will not affiliate with such a body.

Professors Make Daring Descent Into Crater

NAPLES, Sept. 11.—Professor Mercalli, director of the observatory of Mount Vesuvius, together with several professors of the University of Munich, accomplished a daring descent into the crater of the volcano yesterday. The professor rained inside the crater two hours studying, in the midst of asphyxiating gases, new volcanic activity. The descent into and ascent from the inner regions of the mountain occupied eight hours. The scientists say that a great re-awakening of the volcano is approaching.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The Lowell Opera House

The best yet was the verdict of the crowded house at the Opera House last night, and well they might say so for without doubt one of the greatest pictures that has ever been seen in this city is now being presented in this theatre. The production of "Theodora" is very massive and cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 to produce the same. The story is taken from the novel of the same name by Victorian Sardou. It depicts a most thrilling and interesting story, one that will hold the attention of all from the first picture until the final one is shown.

The remainder of the program is up to the high standard set by the opera house since its advent into feature pictures.
Merrimack Square Theatre Players
One of the strongest attractions which has ever played the Merrimack Square theatre is the offering of this week, namely, "The Woman." Since its opening performance capacity audiences have been the rule and even now the advance sale for the remainder of the week far exceeds any previous week. It is a play which is entirely away from the usual run of its kind and in this feature perhaps makes its strongest appeal to the average theatregoer. Dealing with political life at Washington and having for its central characters the leading politicians of the country, one can readily imagine to what a pitch the interest is brought during the action of the play. The bill is a short cast one and each and all members of the company are seen at their best, particularly Miss Young, "Vanda Kelly," and Mr. John Charles as "Jim Blake," the political boss, is interpreting his part in a most satisfactory manner. The staging, the scenery as is adequately done and the latest motion pictures are also shown. Seats for all performances now on sale. For the coming week "The Easiest way" will be the attraction.

N. F. Keith's Theatre

The drawing power of "Neptune's Garden of the Enchanted Statues," appearing at the N. F. Keith theatre, this week is undoubted. The act lacks absolutely nothing in the way of gorgeous detail, and the last cast is just as it was during the long runs in Boston and Philadelphia. From Lowell the spectacle goes to New York for a run. The singing of Miss Clara Sexton, prima donna soprano, is much liked, while the spectacular features, such as the living of the Bebe statue and the "Carnegie" scene, are highly appreciated. The other features on the bill are: "Claude and Fanny Usher" and "Gladys" in a comedy; Irene Myers & Co. in "Daddy" Pearl and Roth, singing and talking men; the Tabors, expert jugglers; Al. Carleton, comedian, and the Labrakans, comedy gymnasts. Good seats for all performances may be obtained. Phone 28.

Lakeview Theatre

The quirkish temperament of the Mexicans is graphically shown by Dr. John C. Bowker, the noted lecturer appearing at the Lakeview theatre every afternoon and evening this week. Having made a careful study of the inhabitants of the republic, which is just now causing so much trouble, he knows intimately the hopes, the ambitions, as well as the failings of the inhabitants. Colorful lantern slides are shown on the screen during the rendition of the

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

(From the Family Physician.)

Everyone has a beautiful skin underneath the one exposed to view. Fear that in mind and it will be easier to understand the correct principle in acquiring a lovely complexion. Nature is constantly shedding the top skin in flaky particles—like dandruff, only much smaller. In skin abnormal conditions, or in advancing age, these particles are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain the more soiled or faded they become—that's the immediate cause of a "bad complexion."

It has been discovered that ordinary mercurized wax, to be had at any drug store, will absorb these worn-out particles. The absorption, while hastening Nature's work, goes on gradually enough to cause no inconvenience. In a week or two the transformation is complete. The fresh, healthy, youthful under-skin is then wholly in evidence. You who are not satisfied with your complexion should get an ounce of mercurized wax and try this treatment. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.

MISS LOWELL SMOKES Mills in City of Lowell do the Same

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—That Miss Amy Lowell, poetess, sister of President Abbott Lawrence Lowell of Harvard university, made a regular habit of smoking an after-dinner cigar on the deck of the Cunarder Laconia, was the assertion made by her fellow passengers on the vessel, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool.

No attempt to conceal her penchant cigars was made by Miss Lowell, these passengers say.
To newspaper men at the dock Miss Lowell admitted that she was interested in suffrage, though she denied any sympathy with the militants and insisted that she supported them very "mildly." Miss Lowell's age, a matter of some discussion among her fellow passengers, is understood to be about forty-five.

How Any Woman Can Remove Fuzzy Growths

(The Modern Beauty)

Many beauty shops use a delicate paste for removing hair from the face, neck or arms, as it is more satisfactory in every way than the electric needle. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a paste, and spread on the hairy surface for two minutes, then removed and with it comes every bit of hair. After the skin is washed it will be firm and free from hair. To insure best results, buy the delatone from your druggist in an original package.

Detection of Crime ing Street Signs

The following letter, self-explanatory, to a certain extent, was received by Supt. Welch of the police department today:

Sept. 11, 1913

Redmond Welch, Superintendent of Police, City:

Dear Sir:

Attention has been called, through the press, to the clever work of Superintendent Officer Michael O'Neill, in the detection of crime, and in bringing the offenders to justice. Officer O'Neill's conduct in the case is particularly commendable, by reason of the fact that he has been a member of the department but a short time. Will you kindly express my appreciation of the officer's good work at the different call-calls.

Respectfully,

James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor of Lowell,
Commissioner of Public Safety.

Rider Thrown Out Fortunately Escaped Without Serious Injury—
Wheel Damaged

An automobile said to be owned by the Burnham and Davis Lumber company of Western avenue collided with a cyclist near the corner of Central and Warren streets about 11 o'clock this morning and although no one was seriously injured the young man riding the bicycle was thrown to the ground and his bicycle badly damaged.

According to a witness of the accident both the wheel and the automobile were going on Central street near the Bradley building and the rider of the former not knowing that a machine was close behind him slightly turned toward the center of the street. The front part of the bicycle was struck by the big auto and the boy was thrown to the street but not badly injured. The front wheel and other parts of the bicycle were damaged and the young man continued on his journey in the automobile that figured in the accident.

Mr. Faubert reports a fine trip through the states, but he says in some places of the Dominion the heavy clay roads were fierce.

At noon the average precipitation over that district had passed two inches and had given the soil the most thorough soaking it had received since last June. The rain was slow and steady, accompanied by temperatures around 70 degrees.

ACQUITTED OF NEGLIGENT HOMICIDE

RICHMOND, Texas, Sept. 11.—Sergeant Sid Wheeler and M. F. Fain and R. H. Stewart, guards at the Harlan state convict farm, were acquitted in a hearing before a justice of the peace here yesterday of charges of negligent homicide in connection with the death of eight negro convicts who were suffocated in the "dark cell" at the farm Saturday night.

Twelve negroes were confined in the cell, which afforded only a few small holes as a means of ventilation, for infraction of prison rules. Sunday morning it was found that eight had died during Saturday night.

SUSPECTS ARE MISSING
Clue to Murder of Girl Found in Hudson

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—H. Bollen, an Armenian carpenter, and his daughter were sought today by the detectives to shed more light, if they could, on the identity and death of the young woman, portions of whose body were found in the Hudson river within the week. Both the man and the girl had disappeared. Bollen and his daughter lived within a block of the stores where were purchased the pillow and the car paper wrapped around a portion of the body. Tenants of the building in which they had their home said that Bollen and the girl had not been at their apartments for several days. Bollen's home on Seventh avenue was closed. The clue which led the detectives to Bollen's apartment, was a shirt badly stained and discolored, which some one sent to a laundry in the neighborhood a week ago. The laundryman thought the shirt might be blood. He told the detectives that the garment had come from Bollen.

POINTS IN TARIFF BILL
Underwood, Simmons and Wilson Confer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Rep. Underwood and Senator Simmons had a long conference with President Wilson over the points in the tariff bill to be discussed by the conference committee of both houses. The two democratic leaders expect the tariff bill to be in conference about ten days. The president arranged to leave at 5:35 p.m. today for Cornish. Though it has not yet been determined how long he will remain at the summer capital, Senator Simmons and Mr. Underwood said there was no necessity for further conference and it was likely that on his return here the bill would be ready for signature.

REINLISTMENT OF MINOR OFFENDERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—As a result of Secretary Garrison's decision to permit the re-enlistment of minor offenders among enlisted men at the expiration of terms they may be serving in army disciplinary barracks, applications for such re-enlistment are being received by the score at the war department. The concession is in line with the spirit of the new disciplinary system in the army.

When Secretary Garrison announced the policy to the 600 men at the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., the men cheered with great enthusiasm. In the barracks the offenders are grouped according to the gravity of their offenses. An honor system also is maintained, as that in addition to the 600 in the barracks at Fort Leavenworth probably 200 more are paroled outside.

It is estimated that fully 50 per cent. of the Fort Leavenworth men will re-enlist and like results are expected among enlisted men in the barracks at San Francisco and Governor's Island, N. Y.

NO WORD FROM U. S. WARSHIP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—In the absence of advices from the commander of the cruiser Des Moines officials today were inclined to believe that American lives and property in Santo Domingo were not in any imminent peril from the revolution said to be convulsing the island. Beyond a laconic report announcing its arrival at Puerto Plata no word has been received from the warship up to an early hour today. The Washington authorities are taking no chances, however, and all preparations have been made for the dispatch of a force sufficiently powerful to protect the customs house and American property and lives if they are threatened. The yacht Nashville is prepared to sail at an hour's notice to Dominican waters and other vessels are in an equal state of preparedness. The Nashville is now at Puerto Cortez, Honduras.

THAW AND COUNSEL MAKE PLANS TO RESIST EXTRADITION TO NEW YORK

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 11.—Harry K. Thaw, thrown out of the Dominion of Canada yesterday and arrested here after a 56-mile flight in an automobile, spent the night in a hotel room here under guard. Lawyers kept him up until a late hour, laying plans to resist extradition to New York. In another part of the hotel William Travers Jerome, deputized by the state to get the fugitive back to Matteawan, conferred with Thaw's most recent captor, Sheriff Holmes Drew, over the court procedure to be followed today. Mr. Jerome, accompanied by Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy of New York reached town last night on a special train and while they ate in the kitchen of the Monadnock house they discussed the situation.

At first merely detained Thaw was subsequently arrested on a complaint charging him with conspiracy in connection with his escape from the asylum and it was upon this charge that he was arraigned today before Justice James Carr in police court. New York was prepared to ask that he be remanded pending the receipt of a requisition warrant.

Safer as Prisoner
The Thaw lawyers yesterday took preliminary steps to swear out a writ of habeas corpus in the prisoner's behalf. It was said this morning they might not press this further and that like the Canadian counsel who tried hard to keep Thaw in the Sherbrooke jail they considered their client safer as a prisoner than at large. It freed Thaw yesterday night and he was taken to a private detective who has been working with Jerome and hustled across the New York state line as a lunatic.

Gov. Foss Waterway Advocate
Governor Foss did not send any excuse for his failure to join the investigators, but all of the visitors knew that the governor is a great waterway advocate and is very much interested in the development of the Merrimack river. This statement was made at the city hall this morning. It was stated, too, that the man delegated to go on the investigations for today's trip had taken sick and the fact that the invitations had not been sent out was not known until the last moment.

State's Work Nearly Done
That portion of the survey of the Merrimack river assigned to the state is nearing completion and the U. S. engineers will continue the work from Haverhill, where the state leaves off. Mr. Hovey stated today that the survey levels, bearings, etc., have been completed from Lowell to the dam at Lawrence. He said that estimates of the cost have been made and will be published later. Mr. Hovey said that practically all of the estimates in connection with the entire proposition are now completed. The state's part of the survey terminates at Mitchell's falls. Ward Hill, Haverhill, and the U. S. A. engineers will go on from there.

REV. FR. JACQUES' WILL
All He Owned Was Left to Parish

The will of the late Rev. J. N. Jacques, former pastor of St. Louis church, this city, was filed in Cambridge yesterday and practically the entire estate of the late pastor was bequeathed to the church and school. The will provides that the house and all real estate shall go to the school; $1,000 in cash to his successor, to be used for orphans of the parish; $5,000 to the school, the income to be used for poor children of the parish, and the residue to be turned over by the executor to Fr. Jacques' successor, for the benefit of the parish. His library he leaves to the Assumption college at Assumption, Que.

The executor of this will is Rev. P. H. Grenier of Waltham.

PLAYWRIGHT'S WIFE WINS

Mrs. Armstrong to Get $15,000 Alimony

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Supreme Court Justice Weeks has granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Edith Armstrong from Paul Armstrong, playwright, on report of J. Hampton Dougherty as referee, who took testimony in the case for some months. Under court rules testimony in the case is secret, but it was learned that the referee found the playwright guilty of misconduct with Miss Catherine Calvert, leading woman in his plays "Deep Purple" and "Romance of the Underworld."

The case was one of the most bitterly contested ever heard before a referee in this county, since the defendant and correspondent in the strongest terms denied that they had done anything improper and produced a number of witnesses to substantiate their denials. The referee regretted that he was compelled to find defendant and correspondent guilty and in his report said:

"A deplorable aspect of the case is that it involves a young woman apparently at the outset of a successful professional career, but the conclusions drawn are virtually forced by testimony and documentary evidence. The contrary conclusion, that these intimate relations were innocent, that Armstrong was a sort of hero and benefactor who had given Miss Calvert her start in the theatrical world, the evidence does not justify me in reaching."

Miss Calvert, who is 22 years old, has been on the stage since she was 18 and first appeared in "Brown of Harvard." She then went into vaudeville and played in "When Love Was Young," and her next appearance was in Armstrong's "Deep Purple."

The referee recommended $15,000 a year alimony and the court approved his findings.

Canal Ready in December

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Completion of dry excavation on the Panama canal, just 10 days ahead of schedule time, advanced the work on the great waterway almost to the final stage. Much digging and clearing out remains to be done in Culebra Cut and at other points along the route, but all of this will be accomplished by mammoth dredges floating on the surface of the canal.

Small vessels will probably be able to pass through the canal from end to end by October 10, and the waterway should be ready for shipping proper early in December.

ELLIOTT DESIRES IMPROVEMENT

The air is filled with railroad news and railroad rumors these days and through all of them runs the welcome indication that the New Haven management, headed by Howard Elliott, is fully alive to the gravity of the situation, the critical public attitude and the reconstructive policies that must prevail if the New Haven road is to recover from the verge of receivership and fulfill its promise to its stockholders, the business men of New England and the public generally.

On Tuesday last President Elliott speaking before the Massachusetts public service commission in support of the New Haven's petition to issue debenture bonds to the value of $5,000,000 declared that if permission is given $7,000,000 will immediately be spent for the safety of the traveling public. He furthermore specified that this amount would be spent for the safeguarding of the people in ways that have long been publicly suggested such as by acquiring steel cars, revising the signal system and other mechanical means. It is evident that the new management has profited by the criticism of the past and is keenly awake to the power of public opinion for good or evil.

But President Elliott, like any other thoughtful man, realizes that no degree of reform in the mechanical properties of the road will adequately protect its patrons if there is no perfect discipline, mental and physical fitness for duty and a full sense of responsibility among the trainmen to whom the lives of thousands are daily entrusted. He therefore has issued a circular of instruction to all officers and employees of the road referring to the recent accident which he designates an "awful casualty" as the immediate reason for so doing. This document is well worthy of perusal not only by those for whom it is primarily intended but by all who have a sincere interest in the road and its management—whether they rank themselves with those who still condemn unreservedly, or those wiser and fairer ones who believe in giving the men at the head all the encouragement possible that they may repair the injury caused by past injudicious management.

The dominant quality of President Elliott's appeal is its direct simplicity. There is no attempt at florid rhetoric or aloof dictation; it is an intensely human document vibrant with practical suggestion and common sense.

He pleads for the good will of his employees, reminding them that he came to the management of the New Haven to work with them. "We need your help," he says, "and we wish to help you. Each must help the other if this road is to be run safely." He tells them that no railroad can obtain safe operation that does not have the earnest and loyal support of its men. Not doubting the loyalty of those under him he asks that this loyalty be shown by the practical observation of existing regulations and the cordial acceptance of any further rules that are adopted for safety. He urges them to read and re-read all the rules in the time-tables and in the books governing the operation of stations, trains, yards, signals and every other railroad department.

Referring to the accident of Sept. 2, he makes the following significant statement: "This accident should not, however, and would not have occurred had the rules of the railroad been observed strictly, and good judgment, born of experience, been displayed." He then goes into the details of the rules and regulations that should have governed the movements of both trains, and says as an appendix: "It is true that rules cannot be made to cover every contingency, and much must depend on the intelligence and interest displayed by the particular individual in applying the rules." He voices the sentiments of the fair-minded people of this region when he graphically states: "The New Haven road is a great property and there is no reason why, with loyal support and hearty co-operation of all, it should not be made the best and safest road in the United States."

Another item of railroad news of interest is the retirement of Lucius Tuttle, former president of the Boston and Maine and one of the most notable railroad men in the country. Looking back from the judicial platform of time and distance the wisdom of his conservative policy can now be seen. Mr. Elliott will be successful if he bases his policy of reconstruction on those of Past-President Tuttle rather than on those of the untimely speculative Mr. Melkin.

TARIFF BILL TRIUMPHANT

The tariff bill has come to the end of its weary journey through the senate and following brief conferences between both branches of the government it will receive the signature of the president and go to the country. Wisely or unwisely the democratic party has stood solid, as a splendid unit, and the bill will become law in practically the same form as its original draft. The fight is over.

President Wilson has demonstrated unmistakably that the idealism which many attributed to him, at the cost of practical statesmanship, has not prevented him from being an able and persistent leader. All who admire him will hope that his judgment and that of his supporters will prove as sound as his leadership proved successful.

In 1894 when the last low tariff bill was passed, it was so changed in the senate that the democratic president refused to sign it. The Payne-Aldrich bill, with its provisions drawn up by the business interests that needed "protection" was also sadly juggled in the upper chamber. The Underwood bill has had the unprecedented experience of having its changes in the upper chamber made in the interest of a lower tariff than that favored by the house. The slight party majority of the senate, swelled at the last moment by the votes of La Follette, republican, and Poindexter, progressive, has given the country a chance to pass judgment on the type of tariff that is at present needed by the people of this country.

The industries now await the working of the new measure with interest. It is not a time for doleful forebodings or just as injurious jubilation. The tariff bill was a party measure and is a splendid party success, but it is far too important to be made a vehicle of party aggrandizement or the contrary. Many of the greatest industrial leaders of the country, some of them opposed to the principle of low tariff, have declared that when the bill becomes law they will strive to give it a fair test. The people desired tariff revision; the democrats have given it to them. It now remains for the country to give it a fair and honest trial.

SANITY OF THAW

Harry Thaw was decidedly "mad" when the Canadian immigration authorities told him that he was to be deported, but he was not "mad" in the sense of being insane. On the contrary he acted as almost any man would act under the circumstances. He had studied all the intricacies of the habeas corpus law and was rudely acquainted with the fact that his knowledge and his struggles were alike futile from the standpoint of the Dominion. When he finally got a breathing spell as a free man in New Hampshire he acted very sanely indeed in trying to get in touch with his mother and his lawyers by telephone. He was out of money and wished to get replenished. Even the disinterested alienists would find nothing insane in that. Yet there is a growing suspicion in the country that were he to suddenly lose his fortune not only the alienists of the United States and Canada but the authorities of New York state would suddenly decide that he is sane and should not be confined in an asylum. Money is made the means of defeating justice in more senses than one.

THE SALISBURY FIRE

With the news of the disastrous Salisbury beach fire come accounts of great fires in Newburyport and Lynn. The total loss as given in the press comes close to $300,000. Yet we pride ourselves on leading the world in scientific fire fighting. On the theory that practice makes perfect there is very good reason for our supremacy. We may lead the world in fighting the flames but we will boast far more consistently when we lead the world in the fewness of our great conflagrations. So far as the Salisbury beach fire is concerned, one who goes through this resort or the greater number of our summer amusement places will not marvel that we have an occasional fire there but that any of them can long escape destruction. At most of our beaches the structures are built of the very flimsiest materials and so close together that when a fire starts in any one of them the whole mass becomes a raging bonfire. This has been demonstrated time and again, and yet as in the case of Salisbury, there is practically no protection against fire. Owners of property at summer beaches are taking a sporting chance on their investment.

SPEECHES ON CURRENCY THREE LONE FISHERMEN

Begun in the House Yesterday Went to Sea—Fed the Fish But Caught None

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Oratorical display attending the passage of the administration currency bill through the house began yesterday with a series of speeches for and against the measure. The general discussion will continue throughout the day and night sessions of the house until Saturday evening. Next week the bill will be taken up in detail. Chairman Glass of the banking and currency committee, father of the bill, Representative Hayes of California, republican ranking member of the committee and Representative Murdock of Kansas, progressive floor leader, opened the debate for respective parties. Chairman Glass presented the bill as a positive cure for the financial ills of the country. Representative Hayes admitted the value of some of the bill's provisions and Representative Murdock criticized the measure as "chilling, timid, half-way compromise."

THE FOUR CAR STARTERS OF THE BAY STATE ST. RY. COMPANY

Went on what was intended to be a deep sea fishing trip yesterday, say that the event was one which will long be remembered. The party was composed of Walter Hickey, Elmer Glass, George Emster and Billy Hayes. They left this city about half past eight in the morning, going to Boston, thence to Revere beach and from there to Marblehead. At the latter place, they all stowed away a great big blower, before starting out in the yacht of Mr. Smithson.

Since the strong winds do not have the same effect upon electric cars that they do on boats, the boys were not so accustomed to the nice, smooth, wavy motion which the big swells and breakers gave to the craft as they would have been, had they been sea pilots instead of trolley car guides. At first the rocking of the boat was a pleasing novelty, but as it progressed, it soon began to have the usual effect upon the "land lubbers." The other three say that Billy Hayes was so seasick that he had to be lashed to the mast. This, however, was an exaggeration, for they simply had to watch him and hold him to keep him from falling over when the boat gave a particularly noticeable lurch as he didn't seem to care what happened him. It was on a similar trip last year that Bill was tied to the mast in a hurricane, continuing as a member of the party and to save him from a watery grave. It must not be supposed from this that the others were experienced sailors—may, nay, for they were in just about as bad a condition from the effects of the rough sea as was Billy, though they evidently tried to keep it that way. The worst of the crowd in spite of the discomfort, all "stayed up" throughout the trip.

The boys said that they did not get any fish for the reason that the weather was too rough for fishing and there were no fish markets at hand. It is quite probable that the test of keeping on deck occupied all their attention and caused them to forget the real object of the trip. They were on the water three hours and when they finally returned to shore, they must have experienced a feeling of joy similar to that felt by Columbus when he dropped anchor upon the American soil. They enjoyed every minute of the trip, the congenial companionship, the dinner, and the boat ride, in spite of the rough sea, and returned home highly pleased with their day's outing. The one regret that they had was that they had no foundation for a good fish story, and told of no "big ones that got away." They know what it means to go to sea after eating a big dinner.

GET ORDERS TO SHOOT

Salisbury's Beach Ruins Under Armed Guard

SALISBURY BEACH, Sept. 11.—The ruins of the beach cottages, hotels and amusement places destroyed by fire were guarded last night by scores of police officers to prevent looting of the burned buildings and to guard against a possible resetting of the blaze.

Walter Condon, president of the Salisbury beach associates, owners of the beach, said last night that he felt certain that the three fires that followed Tuesday's conflagration were of incendiary origin. He also said that he had been told that a man had been seen running from a cottage which later burst into flames and that the rest of the man would probably follow today.

Policemen from Haverhill, Newburyport and other cities and towns came here last night, and with the regular Salisbury beach officers and citizens sworn in as special police patrolled the burned district all night. The officers were under orders to shoot if necessary to prevent looting or incendiarism.

Inquiries into the origin of the fire were commenced here yesterday. The state police officers, the Salisbury town police and the associates, owners of the beach, each started a separate investigation.

Salem Man Drowned MOUNTAIN VIEW, N. H., Sept. 11.—Frank H. Peel, aged 51, of Salem, Mass., was drowned in Ossipee Lake yesterday while bathing. His companion, Herbert W. Hobbs, who was watching him from a small boat, saw Peel's face turn pale. Hobbs hastily held out an oar, but Peel said: "I'm sick." Before Hobbs could grasp him Peel went down in 75 feet of water.

GREEK RESIDENTS ACTIVE

Many are Branching Into New Lines of Business

A prominent resident of the local Greek district predicted this morning that in five years from now the sons of Athens will not be so numerous in Lowell, for he said, Greece will be more prosperous in a few years than it has been for a long time, and many will take the opportunity to return to their motherland.

"Greece at the present time," said this man, "is very poor and it will take about five years before the country is back to its normal condition. There is no question that Greece will be more prosperous than ever after all the troubles of the recent war are settled, for she has enlarged her territory, and that means a lot. Her sons will settle right down to business and the country, which is a very fertile one, will resume its activities."

Speaking about the Lowell Greeks, this gentleman said they are branching into other lines of business and already several of them have left the mill and secured employment elsewhere. Many of them have gone into the farming business in Dracut and Tyngsboro and surrounding towns, and inasmuch as they are clever farmers their business is very prosperous. Some of the land workers are now raising Greek vegetables which are in great demand among the Greeks.

Many of the business men contemplate the purchase of real estate on Market street and the election of new buildings. Next year will probably show a great improvement in Market street.

There are two drug stores in the community, several barber shops and numerous cafes and fruit stores. A tailor is making clothes for men, while a sewing machine agent has opened a salesroom in the vicinity. A jeweler supplies his brethren with wedding rings and other pieces of jewelry as well as keeping their timepieces in good working order, while recently a shoemaker opened a little shop of his own next to the photographer, who "snaps" your face while you wait. Among the other business men are bakers, milk dealers, cigar manufacturers and others, including a dry goods store, a ticket agency office, shoe shine parlors, pool room and a wine store.

All the above places are either owned or conducted by Greeks and they all seem to be doing good business, even the man who sells coal and wood. However, the cafes are more numerous, but nevertheless the owners have several men in their employ and they all get along.

The Greeks point with pride to three of the most elegantly equipped ice cream and confectionery parlors in Lowell and they assure that they will equal any in town in point of equipment and ornamentation.

The business men on account of the great exodus from this city, report that business has dropped some during the past year, but they expect there will be a boom pretty soon, for several of the Lowell boys who left this city to fight for their country are scheduled to return sometime this month. If they all return together the Lowell boys will give them a warm reception and it is planned to celebrate the arrival of the brave soldiers in a manner that will surprise the other residents of this city.

If present plans are carried out a monster parade will be held upon the arrival of the heroes in Lowell, and this will be followed by a grand banquet which will be attended by many. Able speakers will also be in attendance and good speeches will be heard. Numerous letters have been received by local residents to the effect that the Lowell boys will soon return, and it is safe to say they will all be welcomed by their friends and employers. For the departure of these soldiers somewhat crippled some apartments in the cotton mills. The man who stands ready to risk his life for his country is a patriot and if the Greeks become American citizens and become as devoted to their adopted country as to their native land, they will be a source of strength to this republic.

MASTERED BY A MANIAC

Insane Sailor Takes Possession of Vessel

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Some where in the Atlantic ocean, mastered by a maniac and manned by a frightened crew, the Norwegian bark Ravensport is rushing, possibly to destruction, according to a story told yesterday by Captain Jansen of the steamship Admiral Schley, which arrived from Jamaica.

he Ravensport was bound from Dunkirk, Scotland, to a guif port. On the voyage a giant Swede sailor became insane and in his crazy temper cut and slashed the crew at will. He was captured and confined after two of the crew had been seriously injured. Captain Duus, master of the ship, put off in a small boat for Buft Day to get medical aid.

Just as his boat reached shore, the maniac broke loose and commanded that the crew raise the anchor. When they were unable to do so he ordered the chain broken, which was done. When Captain Duus saw his ship sailing away he started in pursuit in the small boat. He chased 10 miles and wore out the men who were rowing and they were forced to turn back.

HUB DEMMIES PROTEST Against Naming Edmund Billings Collector BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo announced last evening over the long distance telephone that he had sent to President Wilson recommendations that Edmund Billings of this city be appointed collector of the port of Boston, that Joseph A. Maynard, chairman of the Boston democratic city committee, be appointed surveyor of the port, and that ex-Sen. John F. Malley of Springfield be appointed collector of internal revenue. The action of Secretary McAdoo relative to the selection of Mr. Billings was taken in the face of a storm of protests from many of the democratic leaders throughout the state. It bred open revolt in the ranks of a hitherto harmonious democracy and created a situation that became so grave that several of the democratic leaders including Lieut. Governor Walsh himself, went over. Secretary McAdoo's head and appealed to the president to block the appointment. So bad was the situation last night that it threatened to rip wide open the solid front with which it was expected the democracy would go into the coming state fight and wreck all chances of the election of David I. Walsh as governor. Mr. Billings is the chairman of the executive committee of the Good Government association. He was for years the secretary of that association and was the manager of the Storow campaign in the last mayoralty fight. He has always been considered one of the bitterest foes of the present city democracy.

COMMEMORATE 100 YRS. OF PEACE

Solemn Services Marked Conclusion of Centennial Celebration of Battle of Lake Erie

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio, Sept. 11.—With solemn religious services, participated in by representatives of the United States and the British Empire, and with impressive military exercises, the remains of the six American and British officers killed in the battle of Lake Erie one hundred years ago yesterday, were today disinterred from the burial plot on the shore of Put-in-Bay island, where they have reposed for a century, and re-interred in the crypt of the Perry Memorial. This ceremony marked the conclusion of the centennial celebration of the battle of Lake Erie, commemorating one hundred years of peace between English-speaking peoples, under the auspices of the commissioners appointed by the president of the United States and the governors of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, New York, Rhode Island, Kentucky, Minnesota and Louisiana.

The preparation for transferring the remains had been in progress for some time. The whole of the burial crypt, where the remains were known to be without designation of the particular spot, had been excavated over a circular area sixty feet in diameter. Such bones of the martyrs as had survived a century's interment were found to be numerous, but there was no complete skeleton and no means of identification. The remains had been gathered up several days ago and placed in a copper-lined, hermetically sealed box, and then reinterred in the same spot, awaiting today's exercises.

Religious Exercises
Upon arrival of the centennial commissioners, distinguished guests and the military and naval escorts of the official party, the ceremony was in progress. At 11 o'clock this morning, a procession formed at the docks and proceeded to the ancient burial plot. The copper box, containing the remains, had been taken from its shallow resting place, and a detail of Rhode Island militiamen lifted it to the beautiful funeral bier which had been prepared for its reception. While this ceremony was in progress, solemn religious exercises were conducted by Right Rev. James DeWolf Perry, Jr., bishop of Rhode Island, representing the United States, and the Venerable Arch-deacon H. J. Cody, D. D., L. D., rector of St. Paul's church, Toronto, for the Dominion of Canada. The spectators, arriving every spot of ground in the harbor, stood with uncovered heads in profound silence. Bells tolled in the village churches and minute guns were fired from the naval militia ships in the harbor.

First Light Infantry, Rhode Island; Captain Walker M. Baker, adjutant, Illinois; John G. Salomon, adjutant general, Wisconsin; J. Tandy Ellis, adjutant general, Kentucky; Fred B. Wood, adjutant general, Louisiana; Major Geo. W. Neff, Pennsylvania; Major Christopher F. Baker, Newport Artillery company, Rhode Island militia; Captain Walter M. Baker, adjutant, Rhode Island; Captain Chesley R. Perry, Illinois; Milton W. Shreve, M. C. Pennsylvania; T. B. Alexander, mayor, Put-in-Bay; M. S. Johansson, Put-in-Bay, Ohio; C. S. Magruder, Cleveland.

The military escort to the memorial formed in the following order:
Provisional battalion U. S. Infantry, Capt. H. A. Smith, U. S. A., commanding; officers and men from the U. S. S. Worwring, Capt. Geo. M. Lowry, U. S. N., commanding; Brig. Gen. Chas. W. Abbott, Jr., adjutant general, Rhode Island, commanding; third company, C. A. C. Rhode Island National Guard; Third division Rhode Island battalion; officers and men from the U. S. ships Essex, Don Juan de Austria, Hawk, Dorothea; Newport Artillery company, Rhode Island militia; First Light Infantry, Rhode Island militia.

The funeral bier was preceded by an honorary escort composed of the following:
Honorary Escort
Chief marshal, honorary staff and aides; band, First Light Infantry regiment; Rhode Island militia; ex-President William Howard Taft and Dr. J. A. Macdonald, Toronto, Ont., escorted by the general officers of the interstate board of Perry's victory centennial commissioners; ambassadors and representatives of foreign governments; Gov. James M. Cox, Ohio, and staff; Gov. John K. Tener, Pennsylvania, and staff; Gov. Woodbridge N. Ferris, Michigan, and staff; Gov. Edward F. Dume, Illinois, and staff; Gov. Francis E. McGovern, Wisconsin, and staff; Gov. Aram J. Pothier, Rhode Island, and staff; Gov. James H. McCreary, Kentucky, and staff; Gov. Samuel L. Harrison, Indiana, and staff; members of the interstate board of Perry's victory centennial commission; officiating clergymen; Rt. Rev. James DeWolf Perry, Jr., bishop of Rhode Island, and Venerable Arch-deacon H. J. Cody, D. D., L. D., rector of St. Paul's church, Toronto, Ont.

Arrived at the memorial reservation, only a limited number of the escorting party were admitted to the memorial proper. The crypt of the memorial, a dome-like chamber 40 feet in diameter, was draped with the American and British colors. The box containing the remains, draped in the same international insignia, had been taken from the funeral bier and carried up the broad temporary stairway leading to the entrance to the memorial. Commissioners of the United States and Great Britain, governors of states and distinguished guests, stood with bowed heads as the century-old bones of the heroes of the battle of Lake Erie were committed to their last resting place beneath the floor of the great memorial now rising in their honor.

YOUNG SAILOR ATHLETE
Lowell Boy Has Won Many Medals
Edward C. Bibeault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bibeault of 110 Ford street, has returned to this city on a furlough after an absence of four years. During this time the young man has been connected with the naval training station at Norfolk, Va., and has traveled extensively with his shipmates.

For the past three years Mr. Bibeault has been in Cuba and has served all of the large naval posts on that island. Previous to the Cuban trip he spent some time on board a man-of-war and cruised over most of the civilized world before returning to America.

Bibeault is one of the most versatile athletes in the navy today. He is a track and field athlete of ability and brought several of his medals to the Sun office this morning. His most notable performance is probably in the long jump, in which event the Lowell boy jumped nearly 23 feet in the big naval meet held last April. He is also a wrestler and boxer well known among his fellows. Bibeault recently challenged the holder of the navy middleweight wrestling title for a contest and it is expected that the affair will be pulled off shortly after his return to Norfolk.

The athletic young sailor intends to stay here for a another week and then visit several other places on his way down the coast to his post. Bibeault is well known here in athletic circles.

Robbed Chicago Clerk in Front of Bank

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Four robbers today seized a satchel containing $4500 in currency and $10,000 in checks from Warrington McAvoy, 18 years old, a messenger of the Garfield park state savings bank and escaped in an auto. The robbery occurred on the sidewalk in front of the bank, which is on the West Side.

The bandits accomplished the theft without the display of a revolver. McAvoy had stepped from a door of the institution with the money and checks in a small satchel and was waiting for a street car when the four drove up in the machine. He was to take the package to a downtown bank.

HEARING ON NEW HAVEN PETITION

Many Present in Rooms of Mass. Public Service Board Today at Resumption of Session

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—A number of Boston financiers not only endorsed the petition of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad for the approval by the public service commission of its proposed $67,000,000 bond issue at the hearing before the commission yesterday, but announced that they had altered their opinion regarding the ownership of trolley and steamship lines, and believed that the road should retain them.

Representatives of financial interests throughout the rooms of the Massachusetts public service commission again today at the resumption of the hearings on the petition of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad for permission to issue debenture bonds to the amount of $67,000,000. It was the third day of the hearings.

H. M. Kochersperger, financial vice president of the New Haven, had not completed his testimony when the hearing adjourned yesterday and was called as the first witness today. He outlined the uses to which the road proposes to put the money.

Endorsed the Issue

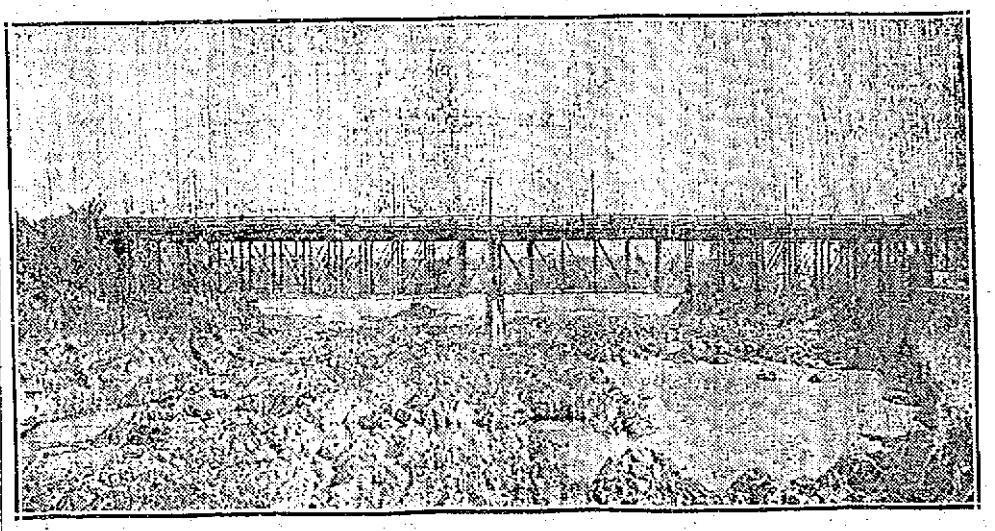

After President J. H. O'Neill of the Federal Trust Co. of Boston had endorsed the issue and had said the New Haven company would have to pay a good commission Vice President Kochersperger resumed his testimony with the production of additional statements regarding the finances of the commission and the purposes for the proceeds of the bond issue would be applied.

Mr. Kochersperger said that among the proposed expenditures were $3,000,000 for a new signal system between New Haven and Readville and $12,000,000 for other improvements along the shore line.

He said that $7,000,000 would be required for the steel cars that have been ordered and between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 for a new station, repair shops and steamboat landing at New Haven.

He said that the funded debt of the company was $226,971,650 and that the capital stock was $152,035,657. Under the Massachusetts law recently passed

VIEW OF MOODY STREET BRIDGE NOW CLOSED FOR REPAIRS

Because of the fact that the Moody street bridge has been closed to vehicular travel since the week after the Rockingham fair the Pawtucket bridge, condemned and re-condemned years ago for heavy travel is being used by all kinds of vehicles.

The question of the safety of the Pawtucket bridge is revived at this time because of the extra travel. Former City Engineer Powers contends that the bridge is not absolutely safe and it will be remembered that years ago when the bridge was first declared unsafe, Charlie Morse, then superintendent of streets, crossed the structure on a steam roller just to give the "delfy" to the men who had declared it unsafe.

Every reader of The Sun will recall the agitation for a new bridge to take the place of the present bridge and engineers from out-of-town who were brought here for the purpose of examining the bridge, a majority of whom at least, declared that it was all right. They recommended the tightening up of nuts and a few minor repairs and in view of their reports and recommendations city councils have been unwilling to consider the bridge unsafe or to vote for a new bridge.

The Moody bridge is open to foot travel and all persons using the line crossing that bridge are obliged to walk across. The work on the bridge includes new flooring, concreting and a little painting. All kinds of vehicles from street cars to road rollers and ice wagons are at present crowding over the Pawtucket bridge without any apparent sense of danger.

hall sharply, politically, as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement, leveled at Tammany Hall leaders and other political opponents in which he referred to them as "miserable scoundrels" and asserted they were seeking his "moral assassination."

The bullet that lodged in his throat three years ago had never been removed.

Clean Out Grafters

Mayor Gaynor was placed at the head of the independent ticket after Tammany had refused him a renomination. His standard was the shovel, reminding voters of his efforts to hasten the building of the new subways. The mayor also said it was emblematic of his intention to "clean the grafters out."

The passing of Mayor Gaynor recalled the sudden death of Henry George of single tax fame and a third party candidate almost on the eve of the New York mayoralty election 16 years ago.

Secretary Adamson received the telegram announcing the mayor's death while he was at his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Adamson notified Mrs. Gaynor at the mayor's country home at St. James and then endeavored to reach by telephone, Ardolph Kline, the acting mayor, who will be New York's chief executive until the inauguration of Mayor Gaynor's successor, to be elected in November.

LEADER MURPHY SAYS HE DEEPLY REGRETS GAYNOR'S DEATH

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, whom Mayor Gaynor, just before sailing, had scathingly denounced as chief of the grafting opposition, had this to say upon learning of the mayor's death:

"I was very much shocked. I knew he went away a very sick man. I deeply regret his death."

INTERESTING CAREER OF THE LATE WILLIAM JAY GAYNOR, MAYOR OF NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—William Jay Gaynor was born on a farm near Whitestown, N. Y. in 1851. He graduated from the Whitestown seminary, went to Boston to teach school and afterwards studied law. In 1873 young Gaynor went to Brooklyn and became a newspaper reporter. Two years later he was admitted to the bar.

From that moment until his death Gaynor had lived in the midst of continual political warfare. He started it with an attack upon the unlicensed saloons in Flatbush, a section of Brooklyn, and won.

Ten years later he led a successful fight against the so-called McLaughlin ring in Brooklyn. His winning fight against John F. McKane, the political boss of Gravesend, attracted nationwide attention. McKane died in Sing Sing.

Mr. Gaynor was elected a justice of the supreme court of New York in 1893 on a nomination given him by republicans and independent democrats, was re-elected in 1897, but resigned to accept the nomination of mayor of New York, to which he was reelected in November, 1909.

His administration of his office bore the imprint of his personality in many striking innovations. As he expressed it he "never quarreled with the organization because I was too busy. I simply went on and did my work from day to day and I kept their hands out of the public treasury."

Mayor Gaynor was a writer of many letters and attracted national attention by these and his policies. Prior to the democratic national convention in 1912 the mention of his name was frequent in connection with the nomination for president. He did not have the support of the democratic organization in this state, however, and was not an active candidate for the nomination.

Mrs. Gaynor, with one of her unmarried daughters, is at St. James. The other two unmarried daughters are at boarding schools up the Hudson.

STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Shoemakers at Federal Shop Go Back

At a meeting last night of the boot and shoe workers who recently went out on strike at the Federal Shoe company because a request for higher wages was not granted them, it was voted to declare the strike off and go back to work for the same wages as were formerly paid. The men, forty in number, have been out of work for the past four weeks and during that time the officials at the shoe factory have secured other employees and it was stated this morning by Superintendent Shanahan that at the present time he had no work for the strikers. An organizer from the Boot and Shoe Workers' union was in town a part of the four weeks in the hope of organizing the Federal and other shops.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY BODY

MEDFORD, Sept. 11.—The body of the man killed by a train on the Portland division of the Boston & Maine railroad outward tracks near the Wellington station and Medford branch switch tower early yesterday morning is still at the Nichols undertaking rooms, 36 High street, awaiting identification.

A button of Truckmen, Chauffeurs and Helpers' Union 25 was found on the lapel of the black coat worn by the dead man. Two officials of this union in Boston came to Medford yesterday afternoon and failed to identify the victim.
